BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1119, as follows:

An Act relating to the incorporation of banks of discount and deposit savings bank and trust companies and defining the powers and duties of the Commissioner of Banking and the Governor in relation thereto

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That before the incorporation of any bank of discount and deposit savings bank or trust company in this Commonwealth the Commissioner of Banking shall ascertain

(a) Whether greater convenience will be afforded to any considerable number of persons by opening such bank of discount and deposit savings bank or trust company at the place designated in their certificate of incorporation

(b) Whether the proposed bank of discount and deposit savings bank or trust company is the promotion of any individual individuals company or corporation for which exhorbitant charges are made for the organization thereof

Section 2 After the Commissioner of Banking shall have made the investigation as provided for in section one of this act he shall submit his report thereon to the Governor who may in his discretion after a hearing before him withhold the granting of letters patent for any of the corporations named in this act if in his judgment he shall deem such incorporation to be against the public interest

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment to this bill at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 2, page 2, by adding thereto at the end thereof the following:

Provided, however, This act shall not apply to any proceedings for the incorporation of banks of discount and deposit, savings banks or trust companies where publication of notice of application for a charter has been begun, or where an application for a charter is now actually pending.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the introductions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the Bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1125, entitled

An act amending an act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifteen entitled "An act providing a system of government for boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" by adding thereto article eight of chapter seven

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 1134, as follows:

An Act providing for the licensing and taxing of any person or persons firm or corporation furnishing selling or using trading stamps for or with the sale of goods wares and merchandise and providing a penalty for violation thereof

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That every person firm or corporation who shall use and every person firm or corporation who shall furnish to any person firm or corporation use in with or for the sale of any goods wares or merchandise any trading stamps which shall entitle the purchaser of such goods wares or merchandise to procure from any person firm or corporation any goods wares or merchandise free of charge or for less than the market price thereof upon the production of any number of said stamps and as an inducement to purchase such goods wares or merchandise shall before furnishing selling or using the same obtain a license from the treasurer of each county wherein such furnishing offering selling or delivery shall take place

Section 2 Any applicant for such license shall pay to the county treasurer of the county for which said license is sought the sum of one thousand dollars whereupon the county treasurer shall issue to the applicant a license to furnish offer deliver or sell or to use for one year the trading stamps

Section 3 Any person who shall hereafter be convicted of violating any of the provisions of this act shall be subjected to a fine of not less than one hundred dollars or more than five hundred dollars for the first offense and for the second offense whereof he shall be convicted not less than three hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars and undergo an imprisonment in the county jail of not less than three months or more than twelve months or both or either at the discretion of the court

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, the bill before the House for consideration provides for the licensing and taxing of any person or persons, firm or corporation furnishing selling or using premiums. There is no public demand whatsoever for the passage of this act. The people in the State of Pennsylvania desire many times to obtain premiums and this bill is proposed simply for the purpose of suppressing something which the people desire to have. If you license or tax these firms or corporations that are doing the premium business you are simply going to put the charge of this license or this tax on the heads of the people who deal in the places where they give premiums. There is absolutely no public good subserved by the passage of this bill and it would be a hardship to persons who are dealing with these parties—I mean the persons who are buying and obtaining little premiums for use in their homes.

Mr. SWEITZER. Mr. Speaker, This bill is to regulate a business which has served its day. There are no merchants in the retail business today who favor the continuation of the stamp business. The retail merchants associations and all of the merchants, those who stand back of this bill, declare that less than forty per cent. of the stamps are ever redeemed. It looks like a piece of bad business as it allows a business on stamps to be carried on and goods sold with stamps when less than forty per cent. will ever be redeemed.

Mr. LAUCKS. Mr. Speaker, I think that most of us who have looked into this matter will agree with the gentleman that there is no demand for the trading stamp at the present time. Personally, I have been approached by a large number of merchants who have told me that the trading stamp was simply forced upon them, especially in the smaller towns. You will find a certain merchant taking hold of this proposition and as a result of that others, who are entirely unwilling to go into it, are, however, compelled to do the same thing. In my own town the merchants have finally come to an agreement to discontinue the use of the trading stamp. I believe none of the merchants in general believe that the trading stamp is of any benefit only to those who furnish them. Therefore, I hope you will aid in passing this bill.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I trust that every man will vote for this bill. You will realize that there are about ninety thousand retail merchants in the State of Pennsylvania who are back of this bill. As it has been stated the day of the trading stamp is passed. As you understand the trading stamp places the burden upon the middle man who purchases these stamps and then in turn are delivered to the customer. The customer pays for the trading stamp. We have reached a point now when economy must be practiced, and it must be practiced along this line. Every man should receive the benefit of the value for which he pays in the purchase of his goods. I am asking every man in the House to support this measure.

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

The SPEAKER. The special order of the day at this hour is Senate Bill No. 69 (House Bill No. 500), File Folio 299, on page 1 of to-day's calendar.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the cosideration on Third Reading of House Bill No. 500 (Senate Bill No. 69), entitled

A Supplement to the second section of an act entitled, "A Supplement to the twenty-fourth section of an act entitled, 'An Act to provide revenue by taxation, approved the seventh day of June, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine,' approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, amending the twenty-fourth section by providing for the payment by the State Treasurer of one-half of the two per centum tax on premiums paid by foreign fire insurance companies to the treasurers of the several cities and boroughs within this Commonwealth," approved the twenty-eighth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, amending the same to provide for the payment of the net proceeds of the entire two per centum tax for the purpose indicated in the original act and supplement including townships among the distributees and providing for certain conditions upon said distribution.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, this is an important measure. There are a few facts connected with it to which I desire to call the attention of the members. It is a revenue reducer and not a revenue producer to the State. Let us consider its purpose and its effect if enacted into a law. Foreign fire insurance companies doing business in Pennsylvania are subject to a 2% tax on the amount of premiums paid. The Act of June 1, 1889, turns over to the municipalities where paid one-half of this tax and the municipalities in turn are expected to pay the same to the local Firemen's Relief Associations. The bill under consideration is intended to turn over the other one-half of this insurance tax to the municipalities and for the same purpose as the one-half they now receive. No member of this House has a higher appreciation of the services of the paid and volunteer firemen than I have, but the services they render are purely local and I feel it to be the duty of the cities and boroughs and not of the State to furnish the funds necessary to keep the Relief Associations in funds with which to render aid to the injured firemen. Certainly we must all agree that the State has been extremely liberal in the 50-50 division it has made with these relief associations during the past twenty-eight years, amounting to at least $2,500,000, and no one is objecting at this time to continuing this eminently fair division. The revenue to the State from the fire insurance tax during the year 1916 was $304,000, of which amount $152,000, was paid to the municipalities for their relief associations. Philadelphia receiving nearly $50,000, Pittsburgh about $20,000, and the smaller cities and boroughs their respective shares. Now as to the effect of this bill should it become a law. The State Insurance Fund created by the Act of May 14, 1915, specifically appropriates and sets apart certain funds of the Commonwealth for the purpose of creating and building up a fund of $1,000,000, by December 1, 1920, the thought being for the State then to be in a position to carry its own fire insurance. The largest single item dedicated to this fund is the 50% of the tax on foreign fire insurance companies which the bill under consideration contemplates diverting to another purpose which I have previously set forth, and if done will destroy the effect of the Act of two years ago to create the fund of $1,000,000, which at the present time amounts to $428,000, invested in interest bearing securities. After the $1,000,000, has been raised the several items dedicated to the same again becomes a part of the General Fund of the State. Our Philadelphia friends came here in the 1913 session with the plea that their city must have a greater borrowing power with which to make their contemplated municipal improvements which appeal resulted in the enactment of the law making the personal property four mill tax a county instead of a State tax which it had been for many years, resulting in reducing the annual revenues of the State by $1,250,000, and compelling us at this time to look about for additional sources of taxation. After that generous gift to the counties

I feel it would be a wrong policy to further reduce the funds of the State by the enactment of the bill under consideration at this time when the State is so much in need of additional funds for war, school, road, hospital and other purposes. A vote for this measure is not a vote to afford temporary relief of say $150,000 to the firemens' fund but a vote to divert millions of dollars from the State Treasury for purely local purposes for this bill if enacted into a law will in all probability remain on our statute books for a long time. Pennsylvania is a great business corporation with 9,000,000 stockholders. It is the duty of the Legislature to provide the revenue with which to keep the wheels of this great corporation in motion. Nothing would please me better than to assist in relieving the people of Pennsylvania of all forms of taxation, but that of course is out of the question, the State having but one way other than by a bond issue for raising funds and that is by levying taxes of one form and an other. As the stockholders of this corporation increase in number the expense of maintaining its efficiency increases correspondingly, and as we create new offices and increase the salaries of those in office and increase the appropriations to the various institutions seeking State aid we must increase the income of the State to meet the same. We cannot reduce the revenus here and there by exempting certain interests from paying their share of the expenses of the State government or by diverting State funds for permanent local uses without finding some new source of revenue with which to make up the loss. I do not presume to tell the local municipal authorities of the State how they shall increase the revenue with which to meet the expenses of their local governments, but I do feel that it is my duty as a Representative to try in every reasonable way to conserve the funds of the State, hence my opposition to this measure.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Williams

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Williams, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I do not know whether I understood the correctness of the figures. What did I understand the gentleman to say was the amount that was paid out for this fund last year in Pennsylvania?

Mr. G. W. WILLIAMS. The amount?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, the amount paid last year by the state into this fund, these relief funds?

Mr. G. W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, one half of the tax which was $304,000, and the one half was $152,842.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, now I would like to inquire of the gentleman whether he made inquiry either from the Auditor General or any other person in position to know what amount was, or whether he is basing his opinion upon the fact that the act says that one half of it shall go for this purpose?

Mr. G. W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I took those figures from the Auditor General's report for the year ending November 30, 1915. The item in the disbursements reads "Foreign Fire Insurance paid to the cities and boroughs, $152,842.35."

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, the only reason I had for making this inquiry was that I had received a letter for a very responsible citizen of Philadelphia, an enthusiast in the firemen's association of the State, which differs very much from the statement of my friend from Tioga. Evidently my friend from Tioga appears to be correct. I had no idea of discussing the question, and yet I do feel that the House,—well perhaps there is some other member on the floor of the House who knows something about this proposition and is willing to explain it to the House. My understanding of the bill as I read it is that if there are boroughs or townships or cities, in which there are no firemen's relief associations and if the municipality does not appropriate money, my understanding was that there was no division made in that community. I was under the impression that the amount paid by the State was very, very much less than the gentleman from Tioga states. I intended to support the bill, and it is my intention still to support the bill. But in this connection I recognize that the volunteer firemen of the State not only give their services, but the members exert themselves so as to get contributions to maintain their organizations for the support of communities. Local communities do contribute voluntarily for the support of that volunteer association. Now is it wise for the State to also assist in this relief fund? Personally I think that the State can well afford to appropriate this sum. After all, it is such an insignificant sum of the revenues of this great State, even if it amounts to the figures that my very good friend from Tioga states. As a matter of fact, when we come to deal with a budget of forty millions of dollars, and the purpose for which this money is intended is such a laudable one, the protection of those who give their services to the communities and the fact that they give those services for nothing, it does seem to me that it is rather parsimonious to refuse to give to these associations this money for the relief of the injured and unfortunate, for the fire fighting proposition is a dangerous one, and there doesn't appear to be anyone to recompense them in case of accident, except the local authorities, and they are rather indifferent to that proposition, and those who are injured cannot be recompensed except through a piece of legislation of this character. Surely I do not think any member of this House would vote for a bill to repeal the present law. If that be the case, it is only asking of the State double that amount. It only involved a small sum, comparatively speaking. Speaking from a State standpoint, the insignificant sum of one hundred and sixty-four thousand dollars. My very good friend from Tioga enlarges upon the fact that from time to time we make these distributions of our public moneys for various purposes. To my mind, this is not one of the times that we should call a halt. There have been a number of things that had I been on the floor I would have opposed on the floor, but I do not think that this i sone of the things that we ought to oppose. I do know that scattered all over this great State of ours real estate is protected by men who volunteer their services and take the risk for their neighbors, to prevent their neighbor's loss, and not very often for their own. I agree with the propositions of economy and efficiency, as we all do, still I think that if we should consider this matter in a broad way we would conclude that it was not economy, that it was not wise to refuse to help the unfortunate who give to the public their services voluntarily, at the risk of their lives. You all know that the State is committed, and has had in operation the principal to compensate the workingmen, where the workman gets a wage, but this is to compensate the unfortunate who does not get a wage, because volunteer associations,—as I said before, and I do not want to repeat—give their time and take the risks. You all know that the volunteer associations of the State all have to hold fairs and spend time and energy to secure the necessary funds to keep up their organizations. The assistance should from those who receive the benefit of the protection of the real estate, without which protection the insurance bill of the State would be more than doubled. Consequently I do feel—and I seldom disagree with my good friend from Tioga—but I do feel that this is one of the times that we can well afford to take this one hundred and fifty thousand dollars for this purpose. I would like to see the bill pass. I do not agree with my good friend that this bill is in any way going to affect the State funds, in other words, the principle of the State carrying its own insurance on its own property. If it is necessary and wise for the State to have a fund to insure its own property, the Legislature can then easily provide for that. I do not agree with the gentleman that this proposition endangers that fund in any way, and I want to impress upon you that the purpose for which this money is being apropriated, to these unfortunates and their families, is a most laudable one, the most laudable we have in our State, and I do think that we can well afford to pass this bill.

Mr. STITES. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I feel a sense of dignity in being able to speak in behalf of this bill. I believe that every man on the floor of this house feels a deep personal interest in a body of men constituting the associations for the preservation of life and property, and that is the case with the volunteer firemen of this State. I agree in general terms with my friend from Tioga that it is unwise to divert the funds of the State in a careless, offhand way, but in all fairness, gentlemen, this is a proposition that appeals to every one of us who has property interests at heart and who has the lives of our citizens at heart; and it seems to me that one hundred and fifty-two thousand dollars could not be more wisely spent than in the interests of the volunteer firemen of this State. Many of the large relief associations of the volunteer firemen of this State are in an almost insolvent condition. It is very well to say that the municipalities should come to their aid, but you gentlemen know very well how difficult is it indeed to get our boroughs, our townships and our cities to accord to the volunteer firemen of the State that large measure of assistance which their needs require. It would be absolutely useless for me to stand here and try to call upon the powers of speech and eloquence to detail to you the very great service rendered by the volunteer firemen of the State, and I just simply want to say this, that five minutes ago the paper published in my home county seat came into my hands. I turned the paper over, and on the front page I find a description of a fire that occurred in Norristown only yesterday, and there is a card here that was sent to the local chief, Chief Hoy, which was as follows:

"We take this means of expressing to you all our deep gratitude for your splendid service at our store yesterday. To the members of the department we extend our thanks for their quick response and excellent work in confining the fire to the smallest possible space, so that it could be extinguished with a minimum of loss.

To Mr. Hoy we are deeply grateful, for his prompt arrival and for his excellent judgment in directing the men under his control, so that only chemical streams were necessary, and the damage consequently made much less."

I have the deepest respect for the firemen of the State who are paid for their services.

I think their work is far out of proportion to the remuneration they receive, but to the volunteer firemen of the State I desire to accord an even greater measure of respect. These men work in the darkness of the night and the heat of the day, with no thought of remuneration beyond the saving of your property and mine; and I say to you that this great Commonwealth could be no better with the small sum of one hundred and fifty-two thousand dollars than place these relief associations of these men, throughout the State, on a solvent and self-sustaining basis.

I trust that this bill will pass.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 317, entitled

An Act to amend section two of article eight and section one of article nine of an act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hunderd and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred sixty-eight) entitled "An act providing for the incorporation regulation and government of cities of the third class regulating nomination and election of municipal officers therein and repealing consolidating and extending existing laws in relation thereto"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I wish to state to the members of the House that this measure has been considered carefully by the officials of the City of Johnstown, one of the third class cities of our State, and they have filed their remonstrance against the measure. They do not approve of it; they are very much opposed to it.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Davis.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Davis, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Cambria state the reasons for the objections of the Johnstown city council?

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman I will say that I read one communication in this House and I do not propose to read another. I hold a communication in my hand here wherein the council and the mayor of the city unanimously oppose this measure. They are opposed to the duplicate form of procedure as provided in this bill, unnecessary expense.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this bill is simply to have the O. K. of the City Controller on all warrants which come before them or which are to be paid by the city. This is a remedy which should have been provided for two years ago; or, in other words, should have been provided immediately after the Clark Act was passed; and experiences in the cities of the third class have been that a city controller—the theory is that the city controller is to be the watch-dog on the Treasury of the city—and you will find that if you allow him to approve bills that it will be very much to the benefit of the taxpayers, it will be very much to the benefit of the third class cities because while not being a member of city council he stands as a check or guard to see that the people's interests are safe-guarded and this bill should certainly pass. I speak with the experience of a man who lives in a third-class city.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page 46, bills on third reading postponed, House Bill No. 478, File Folio 2186.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 478, entitled

An act regulating the use of vehicles on the public highways requiring lights on certain vehicles and providing penalties for the violation thereof

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, the proposed legislation is to require the carrying of a light on a horse-drawn vehicle. It does not affect the present motor-vehicle act of 1913. Two years ago this piece of legislation was brought to the attention of the House and was defeated in a small vote by the members of the rural sections, who were generally of the opinion, or under the impression, that it would work out, to some extent, a hardship to them. In the present bill we attempt to comply, largely, with the wants of the rural secions by exempting from the bill farming vehicles, machinery, implements or wagons loaded with hay or straw in bulk. These were the main objections two years ago. This bill does not specify any particular light to be carried on a vehicle nor does it specify any particular place in which the vehicle shall carry this particular light. At this time we think that it is particularly necessary that a horse-drawn vehicle should carry a light, for the reason that this House passed a piece of legislation some ten days ago which, to a certain extent, curtailed the powerful headlight on motor vehicles. If this is a fact we think also that the present law of to-day requires motor vehicles to carry a light, and we think the horse-drawn vehicle also should be required to carry a light. Councils in some cities have passed an ordinance in accordance with this law in a number of cities. Many of our States in the United States have this same law. Less than three weeks ago the General Assembly of the State of New Jersey passed such a piece of legislation and it was signed by the Governor, requiring horse-drawn vehicles to carry a bright light in front of their vehicle and a red light in the rear. This bill was signed by the Governor of New Jersey. In nearly every State of the Union we have legislation similar to this. We take the position that it does not work out a hardship to the owner of the horse-drawn vehicles and that this law should be passed. I therefore, in all fairness, ask you gentlemen to pass this legislation.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I trust that this bill will pass in its present form. It is not for the protection of the automobile so much as it is for the protection of the horse-drawn vehicle. Automobiles are compelled to have lights and on a dark night horse-drawn vehicles should have lights as accidents and collisions will be avoided by the carrying of a light. It is a reasonable protection against accidents to require all vehicles to carry lights. This bill does not require lights on agricultural machinery or on wagons loaded with hay or fodder and the light may hang on the rear axle which would be in compliance with the law. This is something which a person driving a horse-drawn vehicle should favor for his own protection, even more than for the protection of a person who is riding in a self-propelled vehicle.

Mr. RUDISILL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Mearkle, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. RUDISILL. Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman whether he knows of any light that can be put on a farm wagon, without springs, or any lamp that can be put on a wagon, without springs, going over rough roads, that will keep lighted?

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, it is done on automobiles.

Mr. RUDISILL. An automobile has springs.

Mr. MEARKLE. A lantern will do.

Mr. RUDISILL. What kind of a lantern?

Mr. MEARKLE. An ordinary oil lantern.

Mr. RUDISILL. Will the gentleman please answer my question? What kind of a light can he put on a farm wagon that has no springs that is taken over rough roads and keep it lighted?

Mr. MEARKLE. Any kind of a lantern.

Mr. RUDISILL. You cannot do it.

Mr. MEARKLE. They do it in our county.

Mr. RUDISILL. Mr. Speaker, I want to ask the members of this House to-day to be fair to the farmer and not pass a bill of this kind, because I know, as well as members who have had experience along this line know, that there is no light that is reliable for this purpose; there is no lantern that will do it. I have never been able to get one that will keep lighted on rough roads. Why put a law on the statute books to compel these people to do a thing that cannot be complied with?

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, owing to the serious objection brought up against this bill, from the difficulty of keeping a light on a wagon on rough roads, I move that this bill be re-referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. EBY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EBY. Mr. Speaker, I can see that it is well to have a light on every vehicle that travels on a road, but in our community it is a physical impossibility to put a light on a farm wagon without springs that will stand the jar and jolt of the rough roads. You cannot put a light on a wagon that will remain lighted—a wagon of this kind, and this bill makes no provision for it. We are proposing legislation here that will make a criminal out of an honest man. A man will start out with a lantern on his wagon; start away from his home with a light and on account of the rough roads the light will be extinguished as he goes along and he will not be complying with the law and because his light is extinguished and perhaps because an officer has it in for him he arrests him and he is fined I believe the bill should be amended so as to apply to vehicles with springs and for that reason I seconded the motion to recommit the bill. We ought to be fair all around in this proposition and I hope this bill will be defeated.

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, this bill imposes a hardship on the farmer and the huckster who has to be out most all hours of the night. There is no lantern and no light that you can keep on a light weight or heavy wagon, that will stay lit, and it is simply imposing a hardship on the people that you cannot carry out. We have teamsters in our county, hauling powder and we do not want any lights on the powder wagons, nor do we want any lights on straw wagons or hay wagons. This is a bad piece of legislation for the farmer and the agricultural districts.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Jefferson Mr. Lewis.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. Lewis, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman waits until I am through, he can have the floor.

Now we have a number of farmers throughout the county who make their trips to the city marketing every morning and evening and there are likely to be kept out at night and do not have a lantern with them, and even if they had, they could not keep it lit. I say that this is a bad piece of legislation. It is a piece of legislation that a farmer cannot carry out, and in another sense it does not help the automobile. There is not an automobile but that can see farther ahead that the lantern can show back so it is simply a detriment to the agriculturist. I have driven both a wagon and a car, and I know the conditions. Do not pass this bill, because it cannot be carried out. We consider this a bad piece of legislation for the agricultural districts, and we hope it may be voted down. I hope every member in the House will vote against the bill.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. Lewis.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. Lewis, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LEWIS. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman if he has read the bill?

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, and if he has read the bill, does he not know that wagons with hay and fodder are specifically excluded from its operation?

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, how about fodder.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I said fodder.

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, that is only loose, and not in bulk.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman to say that it would be inconvenient on light wagons and wagons loaded with hay and straw?

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, sure it would.

Mr. WALTER. Well if the bill provides that they shall not carry lights, why should it be inconvenient?

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, it does not exclude baled hay and straw.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I should like to further interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. Lewis, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman what experience he has had in trying to keep a light burning on a heavy wagon.

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, I have never had one that I could carry on a heavy wagon and have it stay lit. The jolting of a wagon will put the light out in five minutes time, before you have driven a mile.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, could not they buy a spiral spring for a few cents, that could be used?

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, where would you put it on your wagon?

Mr. WALTER. Hang the spring on a nail, and the lantern on the spring, the spiral spring would not need to be more than three inches in length.

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, the more jolts you give it, the quicker it will go out. This is a bad piece of legislation gentlemen, vote it down.

Mr. URICH. Mr. Speaker, I cannot see no objection to the passage of this bill. In the first place, it is a law which protects every man who is a farmer or any other man, who has a vehicle or automobile. It is just as much for his own protection, and while he is protecting himself, he protects anybody with himself on the road. So I say to you that everybody in this House should vote for this bill.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. CHESTNUT. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time, from page 49 of to-days calendar, House Bill No. 1096 (Senate Bill No. 286), bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on Third reading of House Bill No. 1096 (Senate Bill No. 286), entitled

An Act to amend an act entitled "An Act to provide for retirement of State employes, permanently disqualified by reason of physical or mental disability to perform their official functions and duties, with half pay, under certain conditions, during the remainder of their lives, except State employes whose retirement has been or shall be otherwise provided for, and the filling of vacancies caused by such retirement," approved the 14th day of June, A. D. 1915, so as to extend the operation thereof to all employes in penitentiaries and other institutions operated by the Commonwealth as well as those more directly in the service thereof.

On the quesiton,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill is to correct the Act of 1915, pertaining to the pensioning of old employes in the penitentiaries and reformatories. The board having charge of this particular matter stated that the act of 1915 was not explicit enough as to including the employes of penitentiaries and reformatories, and this act is drafted to cure that defect. In explanation of this bill I want to say that in the Western Penitentiary alone I have a list of the employes who are eligible along that line. One is Samuel S. Ferguson, who was appointed in 1868, still serving, and on duty there. This man has reached the age now where the State of Pennsylvania should take care of him. He has purchased a home, but has laid aside nothing except that, and I think it is only just and fair that we, as citizens of the State of Pennsylvania, should look after our old employes. I have a list of a number of employes appointed since that time, about sixteen in number, and the total number of years which all of these men have served is 670 years. I would ask that every man vote for this bill and see to it that it is passed.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Section 2. The repeal of any of the above enumerated Acts of Assembly shall not revive any acts or parts of Acts of Assembly heretofore repealed or superseded

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I think it is due to the House to explain the provisions of this bill. The bill if adopted will abolish mechanics liens in Pennsylvania. This particular method of collecting debts was first established in 1803 for the City of Philadelphia alone and by later Acts of Assembly was extended throughout the State. In 1836 a Procedure Act was adopted and under that act, and some supplement thereto, mechanics liens were filed and collected with a greater or less degree of success until 1901 when the present act was adopted. These liens are, in my humble judgment, wrongly named. The words "Mechanics Liens" implies that in some way they relate to mechanics. That is not true and never was true. There have been a number of learned and able treatises written on this subject by the older lawyers of the State, both of whom I think were Attorney Generals of Pennsylvania. They differ as to the reason for their existence but it is generally agreed that mechanics liens were established for the purpose of aiding building. In the early days of the Commonwealth, that is, in the period before the Civil War, credit was all a man had and it was thought advantageous to the community to promote building by giving those engaged in the building trades a special remedy. That remedy has its defects like every other special remedy. The effect of a mechanics lien is to make somebody pay twice for the same thing—in any case where it is likely to save anybody any money. All of you know in a general way how it is done but I shall go over the process briefly: A man, under the present law, furnishes lumber or material or does work on a building; the contractor fails; the owner, although he may have paid the contractor in full and paid every cent he agreed to pay and ought to have paid for his house or other building, is, by means of a mechanics lien law, by means of the remedy provided by these special Acts of Assembly, compelled to pay twice; sometimes he pays a part of it; sometimes he pays all of it. Now that, as you see, is a special and extraordinary remedy. If the tailor who furnishes you a suit of clothes does not pay the wool-merchant who sold him the wool he can not make you pay for your suit twice and I don't believe anyone would support the proposition that he ought to be made to do so. Now that is what a mechanics lien is.

And now a word with respect to its history: In 1841 a man in Philadelphia, who was a boss carpenter, made some doors for a house. They were taken away by the builder of a house; that is, a sub-contractor for the house who was working under the general contractor and they were put in that house and the carpenter sued to recover the doors because he had not been paid for them or to recover from the owner of the building. Chief Justice Gibson, in McIntyre vs. Karper, 2 Watts & Sargent, 392, held that no such lien existed under the laws of Pennsylvania. Following that decision it was decided in Harlan vs. Rand, 27 Penna. 511, that a contractor could not bind the building for work done by journeymen and laborers; that is, a plasterer, for instance, employs two or three or four men; he gets the contract from the general contractor for plastering the house. The boss plasterer fails to pay his men; those men cannot now and never could, under the mechanics law, collect anything from that building, and they are contractors or they work for the sub-contractor and those who work for him cannot recover. So, also, the day laborers and the mechanics or carpenters or the brick-layers who work for the general contractor cannot recover anything in the building.

So I say without fear of contradiction that the man who works with his hands is rarely if ever directly benefited by the Mechanics Lien Law. It was held in the early ages in the case of Smith vs. Stokes in Weekly Notes page 6 that a person who furnishes material to a sub-contractor cannot file a lien. A plumber who gets a contract to do the plumbing in a building and buys his materials from the dealer, that dealer cannot come back on the builder. In other words, a sub-contractor can file a lien but the man who furnishes the material cannot in that case; he must sell to the general contractor if he is to have the supposed benefits of the Mechanics' Lien Law. When I began the practice of law twenty-five years ago Mechanics liens were filed much more commonly in our courts than they are now. That is because up until that time it was not supposed that any contract between the owner and the general contractor could prevent the filing of liens by the sub-contractor, but in the case of Schroeder vs. Galland in 134, Pennsylvania, decided in 1890, the Supreme Court in a very exhaustive and well considered opinion held that if there was a contract between the general contractor and the owner that no lien could be filed, that no subcontractor could file a lien. That state of affairs upset all previous opinions with respect to the law relating to Mechaics Liens and resulted in the passage of the Act of 1895, where it was provided that none of those contracts should be valid or binding unless they were signed by the parties and filed in the office of the Prothontary, indexed in the same manner as judgments are indexed. Thus giving notice to everyone who would look that there was a contract against liens and that none could be appealed in that case. Thus in the confusion and the technicalities of the system a demand arose for a revision, and a revision was made by Mr. Alexander Simpson who was Chairman at that time and is yet Chairman of the Committee on Law of the Bar Association of Pennsylvania. That resulted in the Act of 1901 which the present bill now proposes to repeal. That Act gave a lien against a mechanics lien or builder's lien, because that is the true name, and against every conceivable contract. It purported to give a lien against all public works. A special remedy for the collection of the money due from a contractor under the Commonwealth which affected railroads, canals, telegraph companies, telephone companies and every other conceivable building. The title covers almost a half page of the pamphlet laws, and that describes every conceivable sort of contractor. Now, Mr. Speaker, when that bill went into the courts the troubles of the profession and consequently the troubles of the complainants began. It was held in Cement Company vs. Allison, 220 Pennsylvania, that in explanation of remedies to contractors and builders and material men—that was not in existence prior when the new constitution of Pennsylvania was adopted in 1874, and unconstitutional under the present law, and that cut down every lien that was not in existence in 1874 under the Acts of Assembly as they then stood. That cut out railroads; cut out all public buildings; cut out the remedies against the Commonwealth or against any municipalities, borough, or city, or township and it made a large part of this act nugatory. It was specifically decided in Paving Company vs. Transit Company, 220 Pennsylvania Reports, that a lien could not be enforced against the property of the Transit Company of Philadelphia, and that the section of Act 36, which gives the ower the right to make a defense at law, cannot be set up by the contractor alone and was unconstitutional. Then it was also admitted by this Act of Assembly to give the right to recover against the contractor; in case you file a lien against the building you could recover against the contractor as in a personal action. This was held unconstitutional and so on through the reports until eight or nine sections of the Act of Assembly had been declared unconstitutional, and I leave it to the lawyers of this House if any one of them knows just where he is when taking up a Mechanics Lien and knows what he must do or must not do. I took the trouble in connection with this bill which was introduced by the suggestion of nobdy except the lawyers who are in general opposed to special remedies and who deem this Act an incumberance on the Statute Books rather than any benefit to any part of the public—I took the trouble to write some twenty-five letters to lawyers over the State and of course, addressed one to Mr. Simpson, who drew the Act of 1901. I want to say that out of twenty-five replies I received letters from members of the Bar from all over the State and I have taken some at random from the list of the Pennsylvania State Bar Association who declared unqualifiedly and in unmeasured terms for the repeal, saying that the special remedy had no place under our law and that was a delusion and a snare. If you will pardon me I wish to read a portion of the letter of Mr. Simpson which I have here, among the others, who says this after making some suggestions as to the form of the repealing Act, which I have adopted and incorporated in it:

"I have long been of opinion that Mechanics Lien Laws are a delusion and a snare. I reached that conclusion when I was a carpenter myself, and all later experience shows it to be true. While the Mechnics Lien Law exists, many, perhaps most, of those with the least capital, will enter into contracts in order to get business, relying upon the Mechanics Lien Law, only to find when the end comes, that prior mortgages or ground rents, or provisions recorded forbidding liens, have rendered illusory all hopes of recovery under Mechanics' Lien Law. If men we rocempelled ot deal with one another as in ordinary business matter, I am personally satisfied it would be better for the owner, the builder, and the sub-contractor, but particularly the latter.

I stated in substance what I have above said, to the members of the Builders Exchange, when they asked me to address them some years ago on the subject of Mechanics Liens, and I was gratified to learn that fully four-fifths of the members of that Exchange were of the same opinion as above expressed. You are of course welcome to use this letter in any way you think best."

Now that is a letter from a man who is an authority on liens and who is one of the most eminent lawyers in the City of Philadelphia and a broad and public spirited man. I have a number of letters here from lawyers to the same effect, and one of them in particular says what I think is the most pertinent thing in the whole controversy, namely, that it is those who are unusued to business methods, and who do not have money and are not in the habit of consulting lawyers that are injured most frequently under the present mechanics lean law. I will recite you this instance as typical, it has occurred in my own experience, and no doubt in the experience of all of you. A man lets a contract to a particular friend who may or may not be solvent, but he believes him to be. That friend becomes insolvent, perhaps through no fault of his own, but the owner in order to keep his contract going and in order to help out pays him as he needs the money, rather than as the work is completed. If the contractor then has not paid the lumber man, or the hardware man, or the man who sells him the paint, or furnished the brick, then he will pay twice and I know of more than one instance where a poor fellow went to the wall because his contractor broke up.

Now gentlemen, if you think that is fair and right, if you think it beneficial to the community, why then keep the Mechanics Lien law on the statute books. If you think it is fairer to the men who deal in building materials that they be on the same basis as the tailor, the grocer, or the dry goods man, strike down this remedy, and let those men exercise the same burden relative to selling lumber brick and hardware as everyone else in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has to exercise. They must take care when they deal with the railroad, that the railroad does not become insolvent, and if it becomes insolvent, he knows that he cannot file a lien in that case. They must take care when they sell to a contractor for a school building, because in that case they cannot file a lien to compel the contractor to pay the money. In all those cases it works a hardship.

Now I have taken some trouble to ascertain some of the burdens that are put upon the owner in cases where he desires to make a lien. I know that the financial institutions at my home will not take a loan on a new building unless the contractors liens shall have been filed. If a man builds his house himself, as many do, that is, does some of the work himself, and employs a man to dig the cellar, another man to do the masonry work, he cannot borrow money until six months from the time of filing liens shall have expired. In that case, any contractors or mechanics lien can be filed. Now I am told by a man who knows, that in the City of Philadelphia a charge of one per cent. is made by the surety companies for insuring against mechanics liens, and in addition to that the owner besides paying the charge of one per cent. for insurance, must deposit the money with the title insurance company so that it may disburse it, and in that case allows him substantially the same interest on his money. Now I have no selfish purpose to serve in this act. I believe it would be better for the community if it were passed. I believe everyone would be benefited, and I believe that the laboring men would be surer of getting their money with that class of contractors against whom mechanics liens are filed then they are at the present time. I said in the beginning that the term "mechanics lien" is a misnomer because any man who works with his hands cannot avail himself of this special remedy, and I trust that the only special remedy that I know of that now remains to any class of people in Pennsylvania will be abolished.

Mr. SONES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Walter.

The SPEAKER. Will the Gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Walter, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALTER. I will, sir.

Mr. SONES. Mr. Walter, what position will we be in if this mechanics lien act is repealed?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, it will be abolished, there will be no such thing. This is a general repealer, not an attempt to substitute anything else for it.

Mr. SONES. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, if the gentleman who represents this repealer were offering a substitute, I would be for this bill, but the way matters stand now, if this law is repealed it will leave absolutely no substitute for the mechanics liens act, and while this act is not easy to comply with, yet we ought to have some such act on the statute books.

The lawyer who prepares a mechanics lien must be very painstaking and exacting, and very frequently the mechanics liens are bowled out of court. The preceptor with whom I read law, once told me, and he was one of the best mechanics lien lawyers in Schuylkill County, that was one of his specialties, told me that every time a lawyer filed a mechanics lien under the act of 1901, he had to read the act carefully. He told me that he always had to read the act carefully himself and he was a lawyer skilled in the art of drawing up mechanics liens. That does not say however that we should do away with this mechanics lien act. If the lawyer takes pains, and is properly paid for his work, and draws up this lien properly, why it serves a useful purpose, and I will not vote to repeal this act unless there is an act substituted for it.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I hope the members of the House will not pass this bill. You understand, if you pass this bill that is now before us here, simply wipe it off the statute books the provisions for mechanics liens, it simply repeals the whole law on that question. It is now the only protection the builder or the material man has for his money. We will all agree, I think, that this bill is not a perfect piece of legislation as it now stands on the statute books, but it is the best and the only thing that we have, and while we would welcome a reactment of this whole matter and make it perhaps simpler and more easy to carry into effect, yet bear in mind if you pass this bill you take away the only protection that the contractor and the material man has. I do not think this bill should be passed. A reenactment might be very proper at this time, but simply abolishing this as it does would be very improper, and would take away from the people who deserve, and ought to have some protection, the whole protection which they now have.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lawrence, Mr. Wallace.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lawrence, Mr. Wallace permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALLACE. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I understood the gentleman from Lawrence to say that it takes away the only protection that the builder and the material man has. I would ask him, if those persons in case this act, the Mechanics Lien Law should be repealed would not have the same protection enjoyed by every other citizen of this Commonwealth that engages in mercantile pursuits.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, they would not have the same protection but would have the same remedies for the collection of debts, but by virtue of the business which they are engaged in, they are subject to being defrauded at any time. The poor man to-day who only has a little bit of money or perhaps only a lot on which to build his home, cannot build it and cannot get credit unless there is some protection to his contractor, and the contractor will not take a contract to build him a house unless he gives bond for the payment of the contract price. If you take away the right of lien to the contractor, you are not only taking away from the contractor that which he now has and should have, but you are making it difficult and burdensome for the poor man to get a building constructed, because the contractor is not going to trust him, and is going to require him to give bond, if you take away the right of this lien.

Mr. MILNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Walter, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALTER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MILNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know, if this repealer would pass, if the old act of 1836 relating to mechanics' liens would not come into force, inasmuch as the act of 1901 repealed that in terms.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I beg to inform the gentleman that that was the particular matter to which Mr. Simson referred in his letter, in a part which I did not read, that I have specifically excepted in the draft of this bill, repealing a section of the act of 1901, only repealing the sections providing for liens, and then the last section of the act provides that it shall not revive any of the statutes heretofore on the books.

Mr. MILNER. So that the result of this repealer would be to wipe off all mechanics' lien laws from the statute books.

Mr. WALTER. Yes. that is the purpose.

Mr. MILNER. Then, Mr. Speaker, I think that we ought to vote down this repealer, because it will leave the situation in much worse condition than at the present time. They will have no way of securing their claims and will be without redress. I am going to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, this bill will wipe off all mechanics' lien laws from the statutes of Pennsylvania, the laws of 1901, 1905 and 1913, and we will have no mechanics' lien law and no protection to the contractor. He is entitled to protection all of the time, for he furnishes the material and the labor.

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1684, as follows:

An Act to amend paragraph two of section one of article fourteen of an act approved the first day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five entitled "To provide for the better government of cities of the first class in this Commonwealth" to provide that estimates may be made for units or parts of an improvement in such ctiies and contracts be made for and the work proceed upon such unias or parts to the extent of the funds available for the purposes thereof

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the second paragraph of section one of article fourteen of an act approved the first day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five entitled "An act to provide for the better government of cities of the first class in this Commonwealth" which provides as follows

"Every contract for public improvements shall be based upon estimate of the whole cost furnished by the proper officer through the department having charge of the improvement and no bid in excess of such estimate shall be accepted Every such contract shall contain a clause that it is subject to the provisions of this act and the liability of the city thereon shall be limited by the amounts which shall have been or may be from time to time appropriated for the same" be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows

Every contract for public improvements shall be based upon estimate of the cost of such improvement or the part thereof to be done under such contract furnished by the proper officers through the department having charge of the improvement and no bid in excess of such estimate shall be accepted Such estimate and contract may be limited to any unit or units part or parts of the improvement and contracts may thereupon be made and the work on such unit or units part or parts proceed to the extent of the funds available for the purposes thereof Every such contract shall contain a clause that it is subject to the provisions of this act and the liability of the city thereon shall be limited by the amounts which shall have been or may be from time to time appropriated for the same

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1242, entitled

An Act authorizing township commissioners in townships of the first class to prohibit the keeping of hogs within the limits of such townships or parts of such townships and to regulate the keeping of hogs in such parts of townhips of the first-class where permission is given

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the township commissioners of townships of the first-class are authorized to pass ordinances prohibiting the keeping of hogs within the limits of such township or within the limits of any part of such township and to regulate the manner in which all hogs are to be kept within the part of the township where permission to keep hogs has been given

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the sponsor of this bill the purpose of the bill.

Mr. EDGAR R. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Heyburn.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, this bill is to give township commissioners of the first class the right to decide where pigs shall be kept in these townships. In first class cities they are driving them out of the pig business, and forcing them into first class townships, and the garbage is following them. This bill gives the commissioners the right to decide where these pigs may be kept.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, this is no time for us to question the fact that we shall raise a hog. We should at this time raise a hog wherever we can raise it, in the townships of the first or second class or any other class, and they should not dictate to us wherein we shall recover our ham and bacon. The more hogs there are today, the better hogs we are, the more ham, the more ham sandwiches we need.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to state that he thinks this bill worthy of consideration by the members of the House.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I do not think so. I do not think the bill is worthy of any consideration whatever, and I move that it be stricken from the calendar.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's motion does not appear to be seconded.

Mr. EDGAR R. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. William Davis, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. EDGAR R. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I simply wish to ask the gentleman if they have any first class townships in Cambria county.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, we have first class districts of all kinds in Cambria county.

Mr. EDGAR R. SMITH. Smull's Handbook does not show any first class townships in Cambria county.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Smull's Legislative Handbook has nothing whatever to do with Cambria county, and I renew my motion, Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. STITES. Mr. Speaker, I hope that this bill will receive a fair measure of consideration from the members of this House. It is not an unworthy measure and it is not a measure that ought to be treated purely as one giving cause for merriment. I agree with the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Davis, that in this day and generation of high prices and scarcity of food products that we should encourage the raising of hogs but I do not believe the members of this House understand the proposition behind this bill and it ought to be explained. In the large cities, particularly in that section of South Philadelphia where there are few residences, hog raising and piggeries have been conducted on a very large scale. The city council of Philadelphia raised such great restrictions against continuing the raising of hogs and the further expansion of piggeries that these piggeries have gone out into the sections of Delaware County and Montgomery County which are directly contiguous and in many cases the fine residential districts therein are threatened by the expension of these piggeries. Now this bill provides that the township commissioners shall have the right to say where those piggeries are to be placed and where hog-raising is to be conducted. It seems to me this is a mightly worthy proposition. I am in favor of hogs but I don't want a piggery next door to me nor does anyone else and I hope that this motion will be voted down. We are satisfied in our counties to have piggeries and to raise hogs but we don't want them under our very noses.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Stites.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Stites, permit himself to be interrogated by the gentle- from Cambria?

Mr. STITES. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Cambria desires to interrogate me. The music of his tones are delightful to my ear, so proceed.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, in his speech the gentleman has made a remark about hogs in Philadelphia County. I would like to ask whoever heard of a hog in Philadelphia County.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Stites.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Stites, permit himself to be interrogated by the gentleman from Huntingdon, Mr. Phillips?

Mr. STITES. Mr. Speaker, with pleasure.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman whether it is not a fact that the raising of hogs in boroughs and in first and second class townships at the present time is regulated by the Boards of Health?

Mr. STITES. Well, Mr. Speaker, it might be if that became a menace to public health.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, the reason I asked that question is that last week in a little borough in the central part of Pennsylvania they said that on account of the high cost of living they had a motion on the minutes of the council to prevent them from raising hogs in the borough but they struck that from the minutes during the war time and scarcity of food products and put it entirely up to the Health Department as to where and when they should raise hogs.

Mr. STITES. I think the proper answer, Mr. Speaker, to my friend from Clearfield is the fact that the thing may be not a menace to health but at the same time may be highly objectionable from many other standpoints. It is not sufficient to say that the health board can consider the matter. The health board will only consider a proposition that affects the health of the citizens and yet things may be highly objectionable from other standpoints and I hope that this bill will pass.

Mr. STOFFLET. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Stites.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentlemen from Montgomery, Mr. Stites, permit himself to be interrogated by the gentlemen from Northampton, Mr. Stofflet?

Mr. STITES. Mr. Speaker, with pleasure.

Mr. STOUFFLET. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman under what Act of Assembly or Congress are first-class townships erected.

Mr. STITES. Mr. Speaker, I am unable to answer that question.

Mr. STOUFFLET. Mr. Speaker, that is all I desire to ask the gentleman.

I want to say, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, that we have a first-class township in Northampton County and so far as I know it is the only first-class township in the State of Pennsylvania. Now, what I understand by first-class townships is a township erected under some act of Assembly or Act of Congress with which I am not acquainted and for that reason I asked Mr. Stites and hoped that he could give me the necessary information. This bill, as I understand, relates particularly to first-class townships. That Act of Assembly or Act of Congress was passed sometime during the Wilson Administration and the township that I am speaking of was named after President Wilson. It was the first township of its kind erected in the United States. Those townships, are as a rule, close to cities and are thickly populated and in the government of the township they partake of all the functions of a borough and this bill, as I take it, applies to only such townships. Some piggeries and swine pens are a menace to public health and I hope that the gentlemen will consider this matter very seriously and pass this bill. Wilson township, the township that I mentioned to you gentlemen, is separated from the city of Easton by Fifteenth Street and and stranger going through the city of Easton to Wilson Township would not know the difference whether he was in the township or still in the city, and in the city of Easton the keeping of hogs is strictly prohibited. Why should not the same right be extended to the people to safeguard their health in the first-class townships. I hope that the gentlemen of the House will vote for this bill.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I want to explain to the House that there is this difference about this proposition. They have driven the men out of the pig business in Philadelphia and naturally forced them into the rural townships of Delaware and Montgomery Counties and the result is they come out there in droves and the garbage of Philadelphia is hauled out there and it makes it almost impossible to live in the residences anywhere near where this thing is carried on. It does not abolish the pig business. I am in favor of the hog business myself, but it needs to be regulated. Philadelphia has found it objectionable to feed hogs in South Philadelphia and why would it not be equally as objectionable in the adjacent first-class townships which are thickly settled? This does not prohibit the raising of hogs in these townships, but we do not want to drive the people away by having piggeries close to their residences. We want to say where these piggeries shall go so as not to be placed up against the houses and that is the proposition in thickly settled first-class townships. The purpose is not to wipe out the hog-raising business. I am highly in favor of it. This bill is perfectly right and just and we are only trying to adjust the matter suitable to conditions.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, as a member of the committee who reported this bill out I wish to say that the Committee gave this bill its very closest attention and I might add, for the information of the gentlemen present, that in the codifying of the Borough Law in the session of 1915 you will find that all boroughs in the Commonwealth are given authority for the regulating and keeping of hogs or piggeries within their respective boroughs. There are forty-seven townships of the first class within our Commonwealth. In order to get a township of the first class it is necessary to have a population of three hundred people to the square mile. Hence you will find in certain sections of these townships of the first class a densely populated section. Speaking of Hanover Township in Luzerne County that adjoins the city line of the City of Wilkes-Barre, it is so densely populated as any section within the State and, according the laws of the third class cities of the Commonwealth it is unlawful to keep any kind of a pig and I think you all at least ought to give some consideration to the Commissioners of Townships of the first class where a condition arises that population demands regulation. Then I think that you should give them the right to regulate that condition in that district. Therefore, I trust that the motion to strike from the calendar fails and that this bill passes.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry that I cannot be heard tonight on this proposed bill as well as on some other thing. This bill has some particular interest to every member of this House who comes from the western part of the County of Philadelphia. I am informed and I want to say to the House in the beginning, that there are but fourteen first class townships in this State and as has been stated by the gentleman from Luzerne, these townships are regulated according to a population of three hundred to a square mile. It happened a few years ago in Philadelphia County that the Board of Health decided and the Supreme Court affirmed that determination that the hog or pig raising industry or interests in the southern part of the city were contary to the welfare and health of the county and thereupon they were ordered removed. You probably noticed in the public prints circulated a few days ago that the last of these piggeries was taken away from the county. Now a great many of these men, and they do not raise corn fed pigs but are slop or garbage fed, and these men moved away from the district which adjoins the district represented by Mr. Campbell and Mr. Franklin and myself moved out into the district from which Mr. Heyburn, the Speaker and Mr. Ramsey come. Now, I submit, to the gentlemen of the House that if this was a menace to the health of Philadelphia that it should not be permitted to go right across Cobb's Creek into Delaware County as it remains still a menace to those Philadelphians that live near Cobb's Creek, which is the county line, and also to those persons living in first class townships in Dela ware County across the line. If it is a menace to people in a highly populated community such as a city, it is a menace to a community in a first class township, and if there is on the law books a statute somewhat similar to this, the passage of this Statute will in no wise make it better and it will make it still more of a menace. I ask the members from the city section that you consider this bill with favor and help in its passage.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Powell, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, with pleasure.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, I notice that the gentleman from Luzerne says there are forty-seven first class townships in this State, while the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walker, says there are fourteen. I would like to know what authority the gentleman from Luzerne has for saying that there are forty-seven?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, I have a list here of the townships of the first class furnished to me by the Highway Department; there are forty-seven so-called townships within fourteen different counties. There are twenty-one townships of the first class in Allegheny alone; then they are followed by one in Beaver, one in Cambria, eight in Delaware, one in Lackawanna, one in Lehigh, four in Luzere, one in Northumberlad, one in Dauphin two in Lebanon, four in Montgomery and one in Washington County.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Powell, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, I always like to reply to a Welshman.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, did the gentleman say there was one first class township in Cambria County?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, I did.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, only two years ago I convicted a man in that same township for keeping a piggery under the laws of the Board of Health and he was convicted in our court because of the manner in which it was kept. Every city in the State of Pennsylvania and every borough in Pennsylvania have now the authority and control the manner in which hogs shall be raised, and there is no necessity for this bill here at this time. If this was a bill prepared especially for the City of Philadelphia, I would vote for it but gentlemen of this House we are up against the townships. There are very few townships here who are affected, and these few townships are governed by the Board of Health as to the manner in which they conduct the raising of their pigs and their pig pens; how to raise them; there is a law governing them now and it is not necessary to pass this bill.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, it is not our purpose to prohibit the keeping of pigs in first class townships but purely the giving of authority and right to regulate where they shall be kept.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Heyburn, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Does not this bill prohibit the keeping of hogs absolutely?

Mr. HEYBURN. Where they see fit to keep them according to the laws of the place they will not be objected to. This is simply to regulate not to prohibit.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to strike the bill from the calendar?

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

POINT OF INFORMATION.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of information.

Mr. FOWLER. I rise to a point of information in regard to the Committee on Labor and Industry. House Bill No. 1187 was referred to a sub-committee, the sub-committee had not taken action for three weeks on this bill until this morning. The general committee then met after adjournment this morning, the chairman of the sub-committee being present. The general committee discharged the sub-committee from further consideration of the bill and voted the bill out of the committee as amended. The chairman of the sub-committee left the committee with the intention of bringing the bill back to this committee.

The point of information I am asking the chair is in the absence of the chairman of the sub-committee can we as the Committe report out a copy of the bill?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to inquire whether the Chairman of the Committee made a regular call for the meeting of the committee in a proper way and at a proper time?

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I will state that the chairman of the committee left for Pittsburgh last evening, and authorized me to call the meeting. I put the notice of the meeting on the board after adjournment this morning There were not only a quorum present, but the majority of the Committee on Labor and Industry were present and voted the bill out unanimously.

The SPEAKER. The Chair, in the absence of authentic information as to whether the Chairman of the Committee authorized any person to call the committee, would have to withhold his decision until the Chairman of the Committee had an opportunity to answer. If the gentleman from Lackawanna has in writing authentic authority to call that Committee, and he called it in a proper way, then the Chair would be ready to make a decision on the question, or give his opinion. Did the gentleman who called the Committee have in writing the authority to call the committee?

Mr. FOWLER. No sir, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would have to ask information from the Chairman of the Committee as to whether he authorized it. The Chair could not act, and would not be willing to act otherwise. The Chair would certainly not give a decision until he heard from the Chairman of the Committee.

Mr. FOWLER. There has much been said about patriotism, my dear friends, in regard to labor in this House—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman has risen to make an inquiry from the Chair. Now if the gentleman desires to address the House, he is not in order at this time. There is nothing under consideration. But if the gentleman rises to a question of personal privilege—

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentlemen and members of the House—

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman askes a question of personal privilege, the Chair would recognize the gentleman.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to state my question of personal privilege in regards to this bill No. 1187.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to say to the gentleman before he begins his remarks, that anything that occurs in Committees, the right to discuss that on the floor of the House is not a question of personal privilege. What transpires in a committee, wholly within the committee, the same as a personal reference on the floor of the House is not permitted, and the Chair will refer the gentleman to the rules and I think he will so find.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I would ask for information then. If it is not a question of personal privilege, would not a motion be in order to discharge the committee?

The SPEAKER. A motion to discharge the committee is always in order. As I understand the rules, after a bill has been ten days in the hands of a committee a motion to discharge it is always in order.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know on what reason, on what authority, the Chair bases the decision which has just been given to the gentleman, namely, this: The gentleman has stated that almost the entire committee were present authorized by the chairman of the committee to hold that meeting; a majority of the committee were present; the bill disappeared, and he now asks whether or not he cannot substitute a printed form exactly similar, in order that his bill may go on the calendar. Your answer to that sir, was this: That you had no information from the Chairman of the Committee that he had given authority to this member to hold such a meeting, and until you had you could not give a decision. Now I ask you this question: Have you not a right to accept the words of this gentleman, a member of the Committee, who held the meeting composed of the majority of the members of that committee; have you not a right to accept a substitute bill under those conditions?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to say, first, so far as the substitute bill is concerned, it cannot be received under any circumstances. Second, in the absence of the Chairman of the Committee, and no authoritive information that the Chairman authorized the Committee to be called together,—surely the gentleman from Philadelphia cannot hold that any member of a committee could at any time call a committee together and pass upon a measure that is before it. That is the position of the Chair. Very likely within a very short time, the gentleman from Lackawanna will be corroborated by the Chairman of the Committee, and then the bill will take its regular course.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, the time is growing short and every day counts, and the chairman of that committee no doubt will not return to this House until next week. Now if I may be permitted to inform the Chair—

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman desires to argue the question—

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I am merely endeavoring to contradict what you have just said.

The SPEAKER. I am only holding the gentleman from Philadelphia in order.

Mr. REYNOLDS. I am only trying to correct the Chair, and I want to say this quickly, so that I will not be interrupted, that you have already during this session taken a substitute bill and you have adopted it and put it on your calendar.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to state at this time that no such a thing has occurred to his knowledge, and if it had been attempted the Chair would have insisted that it should not occur.

Mr. REYNOLDS. But it has occurred, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. I would like to inquire at this time from the clerks at the desk whether such a thing has occurred. They know positively when a bill comes to them whether it has the proper earmarks of the original bill. The Resident Clerk is the proper person to know if such a thing has occurred, and the Chair would ask the gentleman from Philadelphia to state what particular bill this was.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to involve any names in any controversy outside of the present controversy that refers to the Committee on Labor and Industry. I will not mention any names, but the chairman of the Judiciary General can substantiate what I have said. If what I say is not so, then he can contradict me.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is this, that this subject is not germane to any subject before the House.

The SPEAKER. The point of order of the gentleman from Elk is well taken.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Committee on Labor and Industry be discharged from further consideration of House Bill No. 1187, File Folio 2195.

Mr. HELT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, it would seem to me that on a motion of this kind it would be proper to await the presence of the chairman of the committee. I have no doubt as to the integrity of my friend from Lackawanna. I know without any corroboration that what he says is the truth. I know that when he said that the chairman authorized him to hold that meeting to-day that he spoke the truth, because I believe him, but I think as a matter of courtesy the House should postpone action on this motion until Monday night, and I move that the further consideration be postponed for the present.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ADAM C. SCHAEFFER. Mr. Speaker, just a few words in answer to my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern. Last evening the chairman of the Labor and Industry Committee, Mr. Mangan, came to my desk and asked me if Mr. Fretz, who was chairman of the sub-committee on this bill, was in the House. I told Mr. Mangan I did not know the gentleman, Mr. Fretz. He said that he wanted to see him, that there would be a meeting of the committee held immediately after adjournment to-day, and he wanted that bill reported out. He also told me he was going to leave last night, but that he had appointed and asked Mr. Fowler to act as chairman of that committee. Now, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill pertains to teh laboring class of Pennsylvania. This bill has been in committee since last March, as I have been informed, and has been juggled, and I was told when I reached here yesterday that this bill was going to be pickled in committee. I, as a representative of the laboring class of this Commonwealth, want to tell you, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, that you are not doing justice to the laboring class of Pennsylvania, and I ask you in behalf of the laboring class of Pennsylvania to discharge the committee and have this bill placed on the calendar.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is this: That under Rule 19 of this House it appears that "no business regularly before the House shall be interrupted, except by motion for adjournment, for the previous question, for postponement, for commitment or amendment." The House being engaged in the consideration of the third reading calendar as the regular order of business, the several motions here therefore are not in order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to inquire from the gentleman from Franklin whether there is any place in the rules providing when motions for the discharge of the committee are in order. The Chair does not understand that to exist, and recognized the right of the motion and decided that the motion is in order. The point of order is not well taken.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I hope that this motion to discharge the committee will prevail. I think we have—

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I understand that the motion before the House is my motion to postpone action on the motion of the gentleman from Lackawanna.

The SPEAKER. While the motion was regularly seconded, it threw the question open to discussion. The gentleman from Philadelphia, I presume, is going to discuss the question of presenting the bill to the House. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reynolds.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, shall I proceed.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I feel that the gentleman from Lackawanna is correct, that the motion should prevail that is now before the House, irrespective of the subsequent motion of my Philadelphia colleague, for this reason, that I feel that the time is growing short, and we should not stand upon the question of courtesy. We should stand upon the question of fair play and give every measure, irrespective of what it is and what it may propose, immediate consideration.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I wish to verify what Mr. Fowler says. Last night Mr. Mangan, Chairman of the Committee told me—

The SPEAKER. The Chair has decided that it is not a matter for discussion, but the question now is whether the Committee shall be discharged from a further consideration of the bill and I hope the gentleman will confine himself to that question.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, I merely wanted to say that the Chairman of the Committee spoke the truth as to taking the bill out of committee. I was one of the members of the sub-committee. We had it in our sub-committee for three weeks. To-day three weeks ago the sub-committee was appointed—

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not like to call the gentleman to order but the only question before the House is whether the committee shall be discharged and the bill placed upon the calendar.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, I think the sub-committee on the bill should be discharged and the bill placed on the calendar because it has now had it for two months and it seems that every power that can be brought to bear to keep it there has been exerted and I therefore hope you will discharge the committee and bring the bill before the House.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, it seems to me that this has resolved itself into a question a snap judgment in the absence of the chairman of the committee and if you had any respect for yourself as a member of this House and as a member of a committee you will not attempt to close up the doors by way of a snap judgment in the absence of the chairman of a committee that served this session—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria will confine his remarks to the motion.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, I was just going to call attention to the fact that the gentleman is out of order.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, as a member of this Labor and Industry Committee I want to say a word as to the reason why I would suggest to the members of this House to discharge the Committee from further consideration of this bill and the reason is this: That over three weeks ago we placed this bill in the hands of the sub-committee. The Chairman of that sub-committee, I know, deliberately—

The SPEAKER. I hope the members will not discuss what took place in the committee. It is immaterial. The question before the House is whether or not the committee should be discharged.

The question is on the motion by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern, seconded by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Beyer, that further consideration of the motion be postponed until Monday evening. The chair will state the question again so there may be no misunderstanding: Moved by Mr. Stern, seconded by Mr. Beyer, that further consideration of the motion to discharge the committee be postponed until Monday evening. The question is on the motion. All those in favor of postponing until Monday evening the motion of the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Fowler, will say "aye"; contrary "no."

The Chair is unable to decide.

Whereupon a division being taken, fifty-five gentlemen voting in the affirmative and seventy-nine in the negative, the motion to postpone further consideration of the motion to discharge the committee was not agreed to.

On the question recurring, on the motion of the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Fowler, that the committee shall be discharged from further consideration of House Bill No. 1187.

The motion was agreed to and the committee discharged from further consideration of the bill.

Mr. ADAM SCHAEFFER. Mr. Speaker, with your permission I now offer the amendments to House Bill No. 1187.

The SPEAKER. The bill is not in possession of the House. Instruction will be given by the House to the member who holds the bill to report the bill at the proper time for reporting bills.

Mr. ADAM SCHAEFFER. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the House be polled and the Chairman of the sub-committee be sent for.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I second that motion.

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman from Schuylkill will cite a rule that makes that motion in order the Chair will entertain it. The Chair himself knows of no such rule.

Mr. SCHAEFFER. Mr. Speaker, I do not know of any such rule.

The SPEAKER. Then the Chair will have to hold the motion out of order. The Chair holds the motion out of order at this time. The House has done all that it can do and in the proper order of the business of the House. The proper time for this bill to be reported is when the time for reports of committees comes up which will be to-morrow morning.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of information. I would like to inquire if the gentleman who holds the bill in his possession now fails to turn up what is the next course of procedure?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will have to report as Lord Grey did when asked what England would do if the neutrality of Belgium was violated. When that arises the Chair will act, for he has the power and authority, and the Chair will act according to the rules of the House and the laws of the Commonwealth.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1171, entitled

An Act establishing in certain counties a board for the assessment and revision of taxes prescribing their powers duties and salaries providing for appeals from assessments and abolishing the office of city borough township and ward assessors

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. GRAEFF. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 4, by striking out the word "abolising" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "abolishing."

Amend section 3, page 2, line 20, by inserting the word "the" before "approval" and the word "the" before "salary."

Amend section 4, page 3, line 2, by inserting after the word "bring" the words "at public sale."

Amend section 8, page 4, line 22, by inserting the word "the" before "court."

Amend section 12, page 5, line 30, by inserting the word "the" before "several"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 727, entitled

An Act to amend an act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred fifteen entitled "A Supplement to an act entitled 'The Workmen's Compensation Act of one thousand nine hundred fifteen' to exempt domestic servants and agricultural workers from the provision thereof" permitting such employers and employes to accept the Workmen's Compensation Act of one thousand nine hundred fifteen.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. McCURDY. Mr. Speaker, owning to the absence of the sponser, I move that further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, I claim that this is a bill that should interest every member in this House no matter whether he comes from the country or city districts, because it has to do and relates to two of the vitally essential and important things of life, food and clothing. There are few people interested in raising sheep in Pennsylvania at the present time and there is a great scarcity of wool. Never in the history of this country has there been a greater scarcity of wool than at this time. One of the essential things for the army is clothing, and wool is necessary for the manufacture of clothing. Unless we protect our sheep better many of our soldiers may have to lie during the cold nights of the winter without comfortable woolen blankets. Each one is vitally interested in having woolen clothing no matter whether they are on the farm or where they are, and there is nothing that will produce the same amount of meat with so little trouble as sheep and this has been decreasing materially in recent years. If we were to look at the chief reason it is largely due to the fact of so many uncontrolled dogs running at large throughout the Commonwealth who are destroying sheep, and because of this fact it is necessary to enact a law to protect sheep from dogs. Many members of the Commonwealth who are not farmers are interested,—and this is not a farmer's bill, but it interests business men and manufacturers. In fact most of the demands for the passage of this act comes from men who represent the manufacturing and business interests of this Commonwealth. Many of the members of these communities have asked for the passage of this act. It has been prepared after many conferences with the business and manufacturing interests of the Commonwealth, and the bill has been prepared for the purpose of giving ample protection to sheep and to the men who raise them and to encourage the raising of sheep in this State. There is not a State better adapted to the raising of sheep than Pennsylvania. Our great grazing tracts in the west are being taken up where the soil is being tilled and we must look for some other source for the production of wool and mutton in this country. There is no State in the Union that is better adapted to the raising of sheep than the waste lands of Pennsylvania. It is very discouraging for any man to start in the raising of sheep and wake up some morning and find that his flock has been destroyed or partially destroyed, and those few sheep that have survived will be so frightened that they will be of little use in the future. This bill should receive the careful consideration of this House. Its purpose is to encourage the raising of sheep by prohibiting homeless and vicious dogs wandering around at night and destroying flocks of valuable sheep. I think this bill should pass. It has the sanction of the Sportsmen's Association of Pennsylvania, of the Wild Life League and of the various manufacturers associations of the State. It is vitally essential at any time in this Commonwealth and especially at this particular time.

Mr. GOODWIN. Mr. Speaker, this is a bill that should receive the careful attention of every member of this House. The sheep industry at one time was one of the most important in Pennsylvania, but it has been decreasing year after year until today we have left some 700,000 sheep in the State of Pennsylvania, whereas a few years ago we had more than 100,000,000 sheep. What is the cause of the decrease in the amount of sheep? One of the great causes is the destruction caused by dogs. Last year, gentlemen, in this one State dogs killed 3,723, and injured 2,891 more, making 6,600 sheep that were killed and injured by dogs in the State of Pennsylvania at a cost to the State of more than $49,000. In the year before, 1915, they killed 5,800 sheep, they injured more than 4,000, injuring and killing more than 10,000 sheep in the year 1915, at a cost to the State of nearly $54,000. Now gentlemen one of the great causes of this destruction by dogs is their running at night. Probably ninety per cent. of these sheep were killed by dogs that ran at night. As an illustration: Out in Beaver County last year, two dogs during one night killed a flock of fifty sheep valued at nearly $1,000. The sheep industry is profitable, and would be more profitable, were it not for the destruction caused by these dogs. The young sheep can be marketed in a few months, and as a usual thing during most of the year. Sheep take but little care, but dogs get in a flock of sheep and it will be ruined. When I was a boy on a farm during one night our flock of sheep was practically destroyed by dogs. There are thousands and thousands of acres of land, rough land and mountain land, that could make splendid sheep pasture and it would be utilized for that purpose were it not for dogs running at night which would destroy the flocks. My friend on the right, Mr. Albee, has more than 1,000 acres of land that he could devote to sheep culture. Now gentlemen we are importing thousands and thousands of tons of wool from Australia, from Africa, and from South America. Why not raise that wool on our own territory? The great thing to establish that industry, or re-establsh it, is to enforce this bill. Section 24 prohibits dogs from running at night. It compels the owner to keep his dogs within his reach and control. It is not unreasonable to keep up our preparedness in time of war, or any other time. Wool is one of our main staples and we ought to be raising more wool, we ought to be raising more meat, and the way to preserve that industry and to do our share, as we ought to do, to stimulate that branch of our agriculture, is to pass this bill, restraining those dogs from running at night and save our sheep industry. I hope every gentleman in the House tonight will support this bill.

Mr. GEORGE A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Lohr, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOHR. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, what is the amount of licenses required under your bill?

Mr. LOHR. The minimum is fixed at one dollar and the maximum is two dollars for male dogs; and from female dogs the minimum is two dollars and four dollars the maximum.

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, then the maximum is raised from the present laws from $1.00 to $4.00 as the maximum.

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, no sir, it is not.

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, what is the present law, the present license tax?

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the present law, the minimum is $1.00 for male dogs, and two dollars for female dogs. This would leave the maximum and the minimum in the option of the county commissioners if the fund is sufficient in the various counties to protect the sheep with the minimum tax, then of course it is not necessary to increase it.

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, in what manner does this bill regulate the keeping of dogs?

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, in what manner?

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, there are a good many sections of the bill and I would have to read the entire bill.

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, that is the reason why I am asking the question, so as not to be compelled to read the whole bill. What is the penalty provided in the gentleman's act?

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, what are the penalties?

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, I am not just able to answer that off hand.

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, on failure to pay a license on a dog, what is the penalty?

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, what is the penalty?

Mr. GEORGE J. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, the dog will be killed if he is unlicensed.

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, what disposition is made of the fund realized from the license.

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, that is required to pay for the sheep killed and the damage to live stock.

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. In a county where they raise no sheep what becomes of that fund, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, under the present law it becomes part of the school fund. This bill was drafted by the Attorney General's Department and that provision is the same, I presume.

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, just one more word on the dog question. The time is coming to pass, gentlemen, that if you keep on increasing the license or tax on dogs, that you are going to put the thing into this status, that no one but a rich man can afford to keep a dog. Now we all know that opposition exists at the present time to the dog tax as it is at present, and this merely increases that tax one hundred per cent., doubling the present tax. That is all well and good for the men who can afford it. We can all keep dogs in this House, and I suppose I will keep on keeping them, but how about the people who cannot afford to pay this $4.00 tax?

Mr. LOHR. That is exactly water for our mill, those who are in favor of passing this bill. A man who cannot afford to pay $2.00 for a dog tax, cannot afford to keep a dog, in my opinion, considering the high cost of meat and bread and potatoes that he must feed to his dog. The dog is not a necessity, he is a luxury, and since we are taxing almost every other form of luxury, and trying to raise revenue, why not tax the dog. I am an owner of dogs and not the owner of any sheep, yet I would not attempt to say that the small sum of $2.00 is too large a license to pay as tax on the dog, and that question is left optional with the county commissioners. One dollar is the minimum as fixed by this bill, and I think no one should object to the payment of a $1.00 minimum license fee.

Mr. STOFFLET. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, it seems to me that if there ever was a time in the history of this country when a question like this should be considered seriously, it is now. With the high cost of living, almost prohibitive, we need something to eat and we need something to wear, and we cannot eat or wear anything that comes from the dog.

Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, it seems to me that anyone who is not interested in what is being said might just as well leave the room. It has been said here on the floor of the House this evening and during the week preceding that the sheep raising industry of the State of Pennsylvania does not amount to anything. Now, for the information of some of the gentlemen who will be interested in this bill if they know the facts, we had in 1916 eight hundred and ten thousand sheep in the State of Pennsylvania. Of this number of eight hundred and ten thousand sheep in the State of Pennsylvania in 1916, the dogs killed more than five thousand. I have here a bulletin from the United States Department of Agriculture stating that in thirty-six states of the Union the dogs killed one hundred and seven thousand seven hundred and sixty sheep. Now because some old fool wrote a fable some years ago that at one time one dog saved one child from drowning, the dog has been regarded as a sacred animal by a great many people.

Take for instance the dog at night—the night prowling dog, jumps over your back yard fences, over your flower beds, over your lawn and back porches, over into the hen yard and pig pen, spreading external and internal parasites as it goes. I want to call the attention of the gentlemen to this one fact, not only to the number of sheep that the dog kills, but to the fact that they are an agency by which hog cholera is disseminated. The hogs of a farmer may die at night of hog cholera, and the next morning half of the hog has been eaten by the dogs. These same dogs jump over the neighbors' back yard fences and go through the same performance as I have described, spreading hog cholera, the germs being in their mouths, hair and feet—just because some people are unwilling to pay a license which would restrain people who do not need dogs, and who are not willing to take care of them properly, so that they do not form associations which will lead them into sheep killing. If the dog is man's best friend, then let us say that Uncle Sam is the man and the dog is his best friend, but when Uncle Sam's best friend kills one hundred and seven thousand sheep in a year, the sooner Uncle Sam parts company with the friend the better off we all will be. The gentleman from Lehigh wants to impress upon the gentlemen of the House that four dollars is an excessive fee. That fee is not excessive, and if the gentleman thinks that it is excessive and if they get too much money in Lehigh county and don't know what to do with it, I would suggest that when the sheep stealing dogs in Lehigh county die of old age, that they take a part of that money and give them a descent burial: and then take the balance of it and erect a monument, not to the memory of the sheep stealing dog, but to the stupidity of a state legislature that refuses to pass this bill. Some bills have been before this House and have received such serious and solemn consideration that it is astonishing that a measure like this, that is deserving of serious consideration and should be supported by every member of this House, could be made light of. I most earnestly hope that every member of this House will consider the serious times that are approaching and the times already here, and vote for this bill.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this proposition to you and me is not a joke. I want to illustrate my point just by citing to you what I know is correct and has taken place in my own county. I remember the day when thousands of sheep were driven off of the Allegheny mountains, when my father was on the farm, and he sold his share. Within the last few years there have been mining towns in our midst throughout our county, and for some unknown reason the miners keep and maintain the onery curs of the state, and they have come out on the farms of the county and they have demoralized and destroyed the sheep industry in Cambria county, and I want to tell you that to-day there is not one sheep sold in that county to fifty head that used to be sold in there before the dogs came in and were maintained and supported there for no reason and for no cause. I will give you another illustration. One of the best farmers in our county, owning six hundred acres of land, a stock raiser and sheep raiser, and a lover of sheep, had a large flock of sheep, and one evening the dogs from town went out there, a distance of two miles, and killed every one of his flock but one, and went back the next night and killed that one. Now gentlemen, it isn't the destruction of the sheep, but it is the destruction of the faith of the farmer in investing his money in wool and in lamb. Who of you gentlemen wants to wear the clothing of the cur? Who of you wants to eat the meat of the cur? No one but the uncivilized nations of the earth will eat the meat of the dog and they will not wear his wool. They talk about the license? License the cur off the face of the earth and give the meat and the wool a chance.

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this is a very meritorious piece of legislation and should be passed by this House. Thirty years ago the sheep raising industry of Pennsylvania was one of its most important industries. Whether you are aware of the fact or not, the counties in the mountainous regions where grazing land is found, were raising a great number a great number of sheep. I well remember in Jefferson County, when I was a boy and working on the farm and was the owner of seven or eight head of sheep myself, that every farmer, practically every one in Jefferson County, had a flock of sheep. To-day you will scarcely find a farmer who has a single head of sheep or is raising sheep at all. The mining operations that came into that county and the dogs that came with them put the sheep industry out and to-day we raise no sheep in Jefferson County. I am not unfriendly to the dog, but I believe that sheep raising and wool growing are more important than the raising or keeping of dogs and that this bill ought to receive the serious consideration of this House and it ought to pass.

Mr. STITES. Mr. Speaker, I had intended to say a word or two on this bill. I gather from the feeling of the House that everybody is in favor of the bill and therefore I shall move the previous question.

The SPEAKER. I do not think the gentleman from Montgomery will object if the chair puts the question.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1917 — 122nd of the General Assembly

VOL. 4. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, MAY 23, 1917. No. 60.

SENATE.

WEDNESDAY, May 23, 1917.

The Senate met at 10 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. E. E. Beidleman) in the chair.

PRAYER.

Rev. M. D. LICHLITER offered the following prayer:

Our Father in Heaven, imbue us with that wisdom which is above the price of rubies and which enables us to distinguish more clearly the real value of life, that lifts us above the sordid things, put a premium upon right thinking and clean living, makes for the righteousness of the soul and leads us ever onward and heavenward. We ask in Jesus' name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. DAIX, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PETITION

FAVORING SUSPENSION OF THE FULL CREW LAW DURING THE PERIOD OF THE WAR.

The Chair presented petition of the Commercial Exchange of Philadelphia favoring suspension of the Full Crew Law during the period of the war and six months thereafter, which was referred to the Committee on Railroads.

BILLS SIGNED.

An Act creating an Economy Efficiency and Budget Commission; designating its members; providing for a secretary and other employes thereof and prescribing its powers and duties.

with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I move that Rule 21, which requires amended bills to be noted on the calendar, be in this case dispensed with, and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the amendments made by the House of Representatives in the foregoing bill.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Said amendments having been printed as required by the Constitution were twice read as follows:

Amend the title by striking out all after the words "An Act" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "Creating an Economy Efficiency and Budget Commission designating its members providing for a secretary and other employes thereof and prescribing its powers and duties"; also section 1, page 2, by striking out lines 1 to 11, inclusive, and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "there is hereby created an Economy Efficiency and Budget Commission hereinafter called the "Commission" The commission shall consist of the Governor Auditor General State Treasurer Attorney General the chairman of the Appropriation Committee of the Senate of the session of one thousand nine hundred and seventeen and the chairman of the Appropriation Committee of the House of Representatives of the session of one thousand nine hundred and seventeen The Governor shall be chairman of the commission

"Section 6 To carry out the purposes of this act a sum sufficient for the payment of salaries and other necessary expenses shall be appropriated for the use of the Commission by an item in the general appropriation bill All payments from such appropriation shall be made on orders of the chairman of the Commission on warrants of the Auditor General"

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, this is the economy and efficiency bill and there are some amendments that should be made and I hope the Senate will non-concur so that a committee of conference can be appointed and the matters corrected.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate concur in the amendments?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Mr. SEMMENS, from the Committee on Education, reported as committed Senate Bill No. 1232, entitled

An Act to amend section nine hundred and four of an act, entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all acts, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," approved the eighteenth day of May, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven.

RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR SENATE BILL NO. 567.

Mr. SNYDER offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 23, 1917.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 567, entitled "An Act to amend section nineteen of an act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six entitled 'An Act relating to roads highways and bridges,' " be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LAW AND ORDER FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF RESOLUTION PETITIONING THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES TO RECOMMEND TO CONGRESS THE ENACTMENT OF LEGISLATION PROHIBITING THE MANUFACTURE, SALE OR GIVING AWAY OF INTOXICATING LIQUORS DURING THE PERIOD OF THE WAR.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I move you, sir, that the Committee on Law and Order be discharged from further consideration of concurrent resolution offered by me on the 23rd of April, as follows:

In the Senate, April 23, 1917.

Whereas, The highest standard of efficiency for the army and navy is absolutely essential to the successful conclusion of the present war, and nothing should be permitted by the government which might tend to lower such standard of efficiency, and

Whereas, The conservation of grains, fruits and vegetables is among our first needs in the present crisis, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly respectfully petition the President of the United States to recommend to Congress the enactment of such legislation, as a war measure, as will conserve the highest standard of efficiency in our army and navy and on the part of the citizens who may be called upon to enter for service in the army and navy during this war; and to that end to prohibit, during the period of the war, the manufacture, sale or giving away of intoxicating liquors, and to prohibit the diverting of grains, fruits and vegetables from the ordinary food channels for the brewing, distilling and manufacture of intoxicating liquors.

Mr. RAYMOND E. SMITH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I move that the motion and the second be laid on the table.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion to lay on the table?

Mr SNYDER. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. The Chair informs the Senator from Blair, Mr. Snyder, that the motion is not debatable and the Senator is out of order.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion to lay on the table?

It was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 696, on final passage recalled from the Governor, entitled

An act to amend the second section of an act approved April twenty-ninth one thousand nine hundred and fifteen entitled "An act creating in counties having over eight hundred thousand and less than one million five hundred thousand inhabitants according to the last preceding United States census a board to fix and determine the number and compensation of employes in all county offices boards bureaus departments and divisions thereof prescribing the powers and duties of said board and regulating appeals from the decision thereof" by providing that where said board as constituted by said act is composed of the county controller and county commissioners only the president of the board in case of a tie vote shall be entitled to a deciding vote go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 989 (House Bill No. 1261), as follows:

An Act to amend section one of an act entitled "An Act to provide for the removal of judges of the Supreme Superior common pleas and orphans' courts permanently disqualified by reason of physical or mental disability to perform their judicial functions and duties with half pay for their unexpired terms and the filling of vacancies caused by such removal" approved eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and one as amended by an act entitled "An Act to amend section one of an act entitled 'An Act to provide for the removal of judges of the Supreme Superior common pleas and orphans' courts permanently disqualified by reason of physical or mental disability to perform their judicial functions and duties with half pay for their unexpired terms and the filling of vacancies caused by such removal" approved May eleventh one thousand nine hundred and one so as to allow them full pay during the balance of their terms of office and under certain conditions half pay during the remainder of their lives" approved twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven so as to provide that any judge of the Supreme or Superior court who has served in judicial office for twenty or more years shall be entitled to receive the benefits of said act immediately after his honorable retirement from office by expiration of term resignation or otherwise whether said service be continuous or not and extending the provisions of said act to judges of the court of common pleas and orphans' court who have served continuously for twenty years or more and have reached the age of sixty-five years after retirement from office of any of such judges after the expiration of their term resignation or otherwise

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of an act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred one (Pamphlet Laws one hundred sixty-five) entitled "An Act to provide for the removal of judges of the Supreme Superior common pleas and orphans' courts permanently disqualified by reason of physical or mental disability to perform their judicial functions and duties with half pay for their unexpired terms and the filling of vacancies caused by such removal" as amended by an act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws one thousand one hundred twenty-one) entitled "An Act to amend section one of an act entitled 'An Act to provide for the removal of judges of the Supreme Superior common pleas and orphans' courts permanently disqualified by reason of physical or mental disability to perform their functions and duties with half pay for the unexpired terms and the filling of vacancies caused by such removal approved May eleventh one thousand nine hundred and one so as to allow them full pay during the balance of their terms of office and under certain conditions half pay during the remainder of their lives" which reads as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That from and after the first day of January Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and twelve whenever the Governor is of opinion based upon satisfactory medical evidence that a judge of the Supreme Superior common pleas or orphans' court is by reason of physical or mental disability permanently incapacitated for performing his judicial duties he shall notify said judge of his opinion giving the reasons therefor and if the said judge shall resign within thirty days after such notice and shall hold himself in readiness to advise with his successors and colleagues and to perform duties as special master referee auditor or examiner in such ways as he may be reasonably able to do he shall receive for the balance of the term for which he was elected if he shall so long live the salary he would have received had he remained in active service

Any judge of the common pleas or of the orphans' court so resigning who shall have served continuously in judicial office for twenty-five years or more immediately prior to the date of his resignation and shall have reached the age of seventy years or any judge of the Supreme or Superior Court so resigning who shall have served continuously in judicial office for twenty years or more immediately prior to the date of his resignation and who shall hold himself in readiness to advise his successors and colleagues and to perform duties as special master referee auditor or examiner in such ways as he may be reasonably able to do shall receive during the remainder of his life after the expiration of his said term one-half of the salary which he would have received had he remained in active service

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the orphans' court of each county of this Commonwealth shall have jurisdiction but not exclusive jurisdiction in the partition and valuation of real estate within the county or any decedent testate or intestate whether such decedent was at the time of his death seised or possessed of such real estate solely or as tenant in common or joint owner with any other person or persons and whether or not the surviving spouse of such decedent shall elect to take against his or her will and notwithstanding there may be a limitation of an estate or interest in the premises or some part thereof to a person or persons not in existence and several undivided interests in any premises derived from different ancestors by descent or devise may be parted or valued in one proceeding in said court Provided That such court shall not have such jurisdiction during the continuance of any life estate in the whole of such real estate

(b) Partition may be made under this act of lands and coal-rights therein and of lands and timber-rights thereon of any decedent whether the rights of all the parties be co-extensive with the whole or not and whether the rights of some of them extend only to the land and part of the coal therein or only to the land and part of the timber thereon or only to an undivided interest in the land or in the coal therein or in the timber thereon and any person having an interest as herein set forth may compel partition of the entire tract of land and coal or land and timber provided said coal or said timber has not been entirely severed so as to constitute a separate estate

Section 2 The jurisdiction of the orphans' court under this act shall be exercised on the petition of the surviving spouse of the decedent of any heir of the decedent in a case of intestacy or of any devisee having an interest in the real estate in question in a case of testacy whether the interest of such person be vested in possession or in the remainder or of any person having a life interest in an undivided share of such real estate or of any alienee or devisee of any party in interest If the party be a weakminded person for whom a guardian has been appointed or a minor lunatic or habitual drunkard the petition shall be filed by the guardian or committee of such party

Section 3 On such petition supported by oath or affirmation the court may award a citation returnable at a day certain not less than ten days after the issuing thereof directed to all the parties in interest other than the petitioner or petitioners to show cause why an inquest in partition should not be awarded Such citation shall be served in the manner provided by law for the service of other citations in the orphans' court

Section 4 All parties in interest including those entitled in remainder shall be named in the petition citation decree and notices when known but if it shall appear on oath or affirmation that the names or residences of any of the parties are unknown to the petitioner for the partition the orphans' court shall have the power to direct such notices as shall appear to the court to be reasonable and proper to be given to such parties by publication describing the parties as far as practicable and the proceedings shall be as effectual to all intents and purposes as if all the parties had been named in the proceedings

Section 5 Where any of the parties in interest reside outside of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and their places of residence are known the court may in its discretion authorize any citations or notices provided for by this act to be served upon them personally or by registered mail or direct publication thereof

Section 6 If on the return of such citation no answer or an insufficient answer be filed or if after hearing on petition answer replication and proofs it shall appear proper the court may appoint on the agreement and nomination of the parties three or more commissioners to divide or value the real estate described in the partition with the same effect as a sheriff's inquest for the same purpose or if the parties cannot so agree may award an inquest to make partition among the parties in accordance with their respective interests the inquest to consist of three men

Section 7 The compensation of such commissioners and of the jurors when an inquest is awarded shall be fixed by the court but shall not exceed five dollars a day each for each day engaged in making such partition and valuation unless the parties interest shall agree in writing to a larger compensation Such commissioners and jurors shall also receive in addition to their daily pay three cents per mile circular for each mile necessarily traveled by them counting from the place at which said commissioners or jurors first met

Section 8 The commissioners or inquest shall if the same can be done without prejudice to or spoiling the whole make partition of the real estate in purparts among the parties entitled in accordance with their respective interests be equal or otherwise and shall make return thereof to the court

Section 9 (a) When any such estate cannot be divided among the parties entitled thereto without prejudice to or spoiling the whole the said commissioners or the said inquest as the case may be shall make and return a just appraisement thereof to the court

(a) On petition to the court of any person interested whether such interest be immediate or remote setting forth facts necessary to give the court jurisdiction the specific cause of complaint and the relief desired and supported by oath or affirmation the orphans' court or any judge thereof may award a citation retunable at a day certain not less than ten days after the issuing thereof

(b) Such citation may be served by the party obtaining the same or by any authorized agent or if required by the party it shall be served by the sheriff or coroner as the case may require of the proper county

(c) The manner of service shall be by giving a copy thereof to the respondent personally or by leaving such copy with some adult member of his family at his place of residence

(d) Such service may be made anywhere within this Commonwealth and if such party resides outside the Commonwealth and his place of residence is known and the proceeding concerns property situate within the Commonwealth the court may in its discretion authorize service to be made on such party personally wherever found or by registered mail or may direct notice to be given by publication in such manner as shall appear to the court to be reasonable and proper according to general rules adopted by the court or special orders made by the court in particular cases

(e) If the respondent be not found and have no known residence within the county such citation may be served in like manner upon the person or persons who may be the surety or sureties of such party in any bond or recognizance given by him for the performance of any trust or duty in respect to which such citation may have issued

(f) The return to a citation if made by the party on whose petition it issued or his agent as aforesaid shall be on oath or affirmation and in all cases of service the return shall state how such citation was served

(g) If the party to be cited cannot be found and has no known residence and there is no surety on whom service of the citation can be made as aforesaid and the facts shall be so stated in the return on oath or affirmation by the party complaining or by some one competent to make affidavit in that behalf the orphans' court may award another citation or pluries citation returnable in like manner with the first

(h) At the time of awarding such second or further citation the court may make an order for publication of the same in such place or places and for such length of time as the court having regard to the supposed place of residence of the respondent and other circumstances shall direct

(i) 1 At the time appointed for the appearance of the respondent should he not appear according to the requisition of the citation and if due proof be made of the service thereof or when service cannot be made of the publication thereof as hereinbefore prescribed the court may with or without another citation as justice may require proceed to make such order or decree in respect to the subject matter as may be just and necessary

2 It shall be lawful for the court on such proof to order that the petition of the complainant be taken as confessed and in case where there is personal service to grant relief according to the prayer thereof When there is no personal service the court shall and when there is personal service the court may in its discretion hear testimony in support of the allegations of the petition or direct a reference to a master or auditor to take proof of the facts and circumstances set forth in the petition and to report thereon and also to report an account against such respondent if necessary On the report of such master or auditor the court shall make such order or decree as may be just and necessary

Section 18 (a) Compliance with an order or decree of the court may be enforced

1 By attachment of the person

2 By sequestration of real or personal property

3 In case of a decree for the payment of money against a party who has appeared the complainant may have a writ of execution in the nature of a writ of fieri facias against personal property only which writ may be allowed by the court or by any judge thereof

4 Whenever any person against whom a decree for the payment of money has been made by any orphans' court is possessed of or entitled to any stock deposits or debts due him or to any legacy or interest in the estate of a decedent the same may be levied on or attached in satisfaction of such decree by the same process and in the same manner as is now or may hereafter be provided by law in the case of judgments of any court of common pleas A writ of attachment for said purpose may be allowed by said orphans' court or any judge thereof as writs of fieri facias in said court are allowed and may be served out of the county in which the same may be issued but service on the party against whom such decree was made shall not be required if he be not found in said county

5 Writs of testatum fieri facias may be issued out of any orphans' court in the same manner that writs of execution in the nature of writs of fieri facias are allowed by this act and the sheriff or other officer to whom any such writ is directed shall proceed to levy and sell the personal property of the person or persons against whom the same shall be issued in the same manner in all respects as if such writ had issued out of a court of common pleas

(b) 1 Writs of attachment of the person and sequestration shall be directed to and executed by the sheriff or coroner as the case may require of the proper county

2 When any executor administrator guardian or trustee shall reside or move out of the county in which his appointment shall have taken place or shall not possess real or personal property in such county sufficient to satisfy any decree or order of the orphans' court of such county it shall be lawful for the orphans' court of such county to issue process to the county in which such executor administrator guardian or trustee may be or in which he may have real or personal estate amenable to such process and such process shall be executed by the sheriff or coroner as the case may require of the county in which such executor administrator guardian or trustee may be or may possess real or personal estate as aforesaid

3 Writs of sequestration shall be in the following form The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania To the sheriff of the county of greeting Whereas A B (here set out the decree or so much thereof as is material to explain the duty to be performed) Therefore we command you that you do at proper and convenient hours in the day time go to and enter upon all the messauges lands tenements and real estates of the said A B and that you do collect take and get into your hands not only the rents issues and profits of all his said real estates but also all his goods chattels and personal estate and detain and keep the same under sequestration in your hands and also that you attach all stocks held by him in incorporated companies and keep the same under attachment until our said orphans' court shall make other order to the contrary and you are to return with this writ an inventory or schedule of the property you have requestered or attached and a certificate under your hand of the manner in which you shall have executed this writ to our said court on the day of next

Witness et cetera

4 A sequestration shall not abate by the death of the complainant or respondent

5 It shall be the duty of the sheriff or the coroner as the case may be immediately after receiving any such writ of sequestration to file a copy thereof in the office of the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of the same county who shall forthwith enter the substance thereof on his docket with the names of the parties and index the same in the judgment index and the entry thereof shall thenceforth operate to charge the real estate of the respondent according to the form and effect of such writ and shall bind the same in the hands of all purchasers and mortgagees subsequently to such entry without other notice Provided that if such sequestration shall be dissolved by the order of the orphans' court the respondent or any person interested in such real estate may have a certificate of the same from the clerk of the said court which it shall be the duty of such clerk to furnish on application and which being entered on the docket of said court of common pleas shall have the effect of a satisfaction of such lien

6 When proof shall be made on oath or affirmation to the satisfaction of the court or to any judge thereof at the time of filing the petition as aforesaid that the respondent has absconded or is about to abscond or depart from his usual place of abode to the prejudice of the complainant it shall be lawful for the court or for such judge to allow the issuing of a writ of attachment of the person or a writ of sequestration or both in the first instance against such respondent and on the return thereof the like proceedings may be had as are authorized on the return of a citation

7 If such attachment of the person or sequestration issued in the first instance be executed the court or any judge thereof may dissolve the same on the respondent giving security to the satisfaction of the court or of such judge to appear on a day certain to answer to the petition and to abide the orders and decrees of the court in the premises

8 Any person attached as for contempt in refusing to obey an order or decree of the orphans' court whether for the payment of money or in any other case may be discharged from custody by said court or his complying with the order or decree of the court or paying the money for which such order or decree has been made or upon his purging himself of contempt to the satisfaction of the court by whose order he was attached

9 When proof shall be made on oath or affirmation to the satisfaction of the court or of any judge thereof at the time of presenting a petition or at any stage of the cause that the party therein named has in his possession trust property or effects which he is wasting or otherwise disposing of contrary to his duty and the trust or that he is about to abscond and to carry such trust property or effects out of the jurisdiction of the court it shall be lawful for the court or such judge to award a writ in the name of the Commonwealth to the sheriff or coroner as the case may require of the proper county returnable on a day certain commanding him to take possession of all such trust property and effects specified in such writ and to hold the same subject to the order of the court and also to attach all debts due to such trust whether by bond mortgage or otherwise and all stocks in incorporated companies and serve a copy of such writ upon each debtor and upon each company in which stock may be held belonging to the trust as aforesaid Provided That before the execution of such writ the sheriff or coroner as the case may be may require of the party at whose instance such writ may have been issued sufficient security to indemnify him against any damages arising from the execution thereof And provided also That if the party against whom such writ may issue shall give sufficient security to such sheriff or coroner that the trust property or effects specified in such writ shall be forthcoming at the return thereof then such sheriff or coroner shall not execute the same but shall make return of the facts to the court

10 The like proceedings may be had where the court has made a final order and decree for the delivery of the trust property and effects by the respondent to any person who may be designated by law or by the order of the court to receive them

11 On the return of such writ the court may make such order respecting the disposition of such trust property and effects as may be necessary and proper according to the principles of justice and equity

12 When a decree shall have been made against any party who shall not have appeared according to the requisitions of the citation and a sequestration shall have issued against the real or personal estate of such party the court may order the decree to be satisfied out of the estate and effects sequestered Provided That such order shall not be carried into execution until the complainant shall have given security to the satisfaction of the court to abide the order of the court touching the restitution of what he may have received in case the respondent shall appear and be admitted to defend the suit but if such security shall not be given the estate and effects sequestered or the proceeds thereof shall remain subject to the direction of the court to abide its further order

13 If the party against whom such decree shall have been made or his representatives shall within one year after personal notice of such decree and within five years after the entry thereof when no such notice shall have been given present a petition to the same court praying to be admitted to be heard and shall pay such costs as the court shall adjudge the party so petitioning shall be admitted to a defense and the case shall then proceed in like manner as if such party had appeared in due season and no decree had been made

14 If such party or his representatives shall not within such period present a petition as aforesaid the court may make such final order and decree both in respect to any estate or effects that may have been sequestered and in respect to the matters in controversy in the case as may be according to justice and equity and may if necessary award a writ in the nature of a fieri facias in the manner hereinbefore provided as in the case where the party appears

(d) Writs of fieri facias shall be directed to and executed by the sheriff or coroner as the case may require of the proper county and the proceedings thereon shall be the same as on writs of fieri facias against personal property issued by the court of common pleas of the same county

(e) 1 It shall be the duty of the prothonotaries of the courts of common pleas to file and docket whenever the same shall be furnished by any parties interested certified transcripts of any definite orders of the orphans' court of the same or any other county upon parties other than fiduciaries to pay certain sums of money which transcripts so filed shall constitute judgments which shall be liens against the real estate of the persons ordered to pay from the time of such entry until payment distribution or satisfaction Executions may be issued thereon out of said court of common pleas against the real estate only of such persons by any party or parties interested for the recovery of so much as may be due to them respectively The liens of such judgments shall cease at the expiration of five years from the time of the entry aforesaid unless revived by scire facias in the manner by law directed in the cases of judgments of the courts of common law

In case of an appeal from the orphans' court the judgment shall be for no more than the amount finally decreed by the appellate court to be due and it shall be the duty of the prothonotary of the common pleas on such decree of the appellate court being certified to him to enter on his docket the amount so found due and decreed by the appellate court If such amount be greater than that decreed by the orphans' court the judgment for such excess shall take effect only from the time of entering the decree of the appellate court but if the amount be reduced by the final decree of the appellate court the prothonotary shall reduce the amount originally entered on his judgment docket and index accordingly and such final decree upon appeal being certified and filed in said court of common pleas the said term of five years shall be counted from the time of such entry

2 When the person liable shall have fully paid and discharged the amount of such judgment the parties who have received payment shall acknowledge satisfaction thereof on the record of the court of common pleas In case of neglect or refusal so to do for the space of thirty days after request in writing and tender of all the costs the orphans' court on due proof to them made that the entire amount due from such person according to the order of the orphans court has been fully paid and discharged may make an order for his release from such recorded judgment which order being certified to the court of common pleas shall be entered on their records and shall operate as a full satisfaction and discharge of such judgment

Section 19 The fees to be taken by the sheriffs of each county for the services enjoined by this act shall be the same as those allowed for like services and for executing a writ of sequestration the same fees shall be allowed as upon a writ of foreign attachment together with reasonable costs and expenses according to the discretion of the court On all writs and process sent from another county no mileage shall be allowed except for the distance actually traveled but an allowance shall be made for the transmission of such writs and process to the clerk of the court from which they may have issued at the common rates of postage

Section 20 (a) Each of the orphans' courts of this Commonwealth is empowered to issue writs of subpoena under its official seal into any county of this Commonwealth to summon and bring before the respective court any person to give testimony in any cause or matter depending before it under the penalties that are or shall be appointed and allowed in any such case by the laws of this Commonwealth

(b) 1 In all proceedings begun by petition where an issue of fact is raised it shall be within the discretion of the orphans' court by general rule or by special order in the case to provide for the reference of the case to a master to take the testimony and report his findings and his recommendations as to a decree or to provide for the taking of depositions before a notary public or other official authorized to administer oaths and affirmations or to provide for the taking of testimony before a judge of said court The office of examiner in the orphans' court appointed merely for the purpose of taking testimony is hereby abolished except in the cases mentioned in paragraph three of this clause and except in cases where at the time of the approval of this act examiners have been appointed and are still in office

2 Every orphans' court of this Commonwealth shall have power to make rules regulating the taking of depositions of aged infirm and going witnesses and the issuance and execution of commissions to take testimony and letters rogatory

3 Where the testimony of any witness is desired to be read in evidence in any proceeding now or hereafter pending in any orphans' court of this Commonwealth and such witness resides in any other state territory or possession of the United States of America or in any foreign country the court may on the application of any party provide for the taking in such other state territory possession or foreign country of the testimony of such witness or witnesses orally before an examiner appointed by the court or before any person authorized by the laws of such other state territory possession or foreign country to administer oaths. In granting any such application the court may impose such terms as it shall deem proper as to the payment by the party applying therefor of the costs and expenses involved including reasonable counsel fees and traveling expenses and may prescribe the notice to be given and the time within which such testimony shall be taken

(c) The orphans' court shall have power to compel the production of any books papers or other documents necessary to a just decision of the question before them or before an auditor or master

(d) Every orphans' court of this Commonwealth shall have the jurisdiction and powers of a court of chancery so far as relates to the perpetuation of testimony in all cases including cases of lost or destroyed records of such court whether such records were lost or destroyed before or after the passage of this act and the same proceedings orders decrees and judgment shall be had under this section mutatis mutandis as in cases now authorized by law and with the like effect and when proved such records shall have the same legal operation as the original records would have had Notice of any proceeding under this clause shall be given to all persons interested or their guardians or committees

(e) 1 On appeal from the decision of any register of wills or in proceedings removed from any register of wills by certification the orphans' court shall hear the testimony de novo unless all parties appearing in the proceeding shall agree that the case shall be heard on the testimony taken before such register Provided That in all cases the court shall have power to require the production before it for examination of witneses already examined or of any other witnesses

2 The testimony of all witnesses examined in any cause litigated before any orphans' court on appeal from any register of wills or on removal from any register of wills by certification shall be taken in writing and made a part of the proceedings therein upon which testimony the court having jurisdiction of such cause by appeal may affirm reverse alter or modify the decree of the orphans' court

Section 21 (a) The orphans' court shall have power to send an issue to the court of common pleas of the same county for the trial of facts by jury whenever they shall deem it expedient so to do

(b) Whenever a dispute upon a matter of fact arises before any orphans' court on appeal from any register of wills or on removal from any register of wills by certification the said court shall at the request of either party direct a precept for an issue to the court of common pleas of the county for the trial thereof which in the case of an issue devisavit vel non shall be substantially in the following form (L. Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the real and personal estate of a decedent whether male or female remaining after payment of all just debts and legal charges which shall not have been sold or disposed of by will or otherwise limited by marriage settlement shall be divided and enjoyed as follows namely

(a) Where such intestate shall leave a spouse surviving and one child only or shall leave a spouse surviving and no children but shall leave descendants of one deceased child the spouse shall be entitled to one-half part of the real and personal estate

(b) Where such intestate shall leave a spouse surviving and more than one child or one child and the descendants of a deceased child or children or the descendants of more than one deceased child the surviving spouse shall be entitled to one-third part of the real and personal estate

Section 2 (a) Where such intestate shall leave a spouse surviving and other kindred but no issue the surviving spouse shall be entitled to the real or personal estate or both to the aggregate value of five thousand dollars in addition in the case of a widow to the widow's exemption as allowed by law and if such estate shall exceed in value the sum of five thousand dollars the surviving spouse shall be entitled to the sum of five thousand dollars absolutely to be chosen by him or her from real or personal estate or both and in addition thereto shall be entitled to one-half part of the remaining real and personal estate Provided That the provisions of this clause shall apply only to cases of actual intestacy of husband or wife entire or partial and not to cases where the surviving spouse shall elect to take against the will of the deceased spouse

(b) The appraisement and setting apart of the said five thousand dollars in value of property shall be made by two appraisers who shall be appointed by the orphans' court having jurisdiction of the accounts of the personal representatives of such intestate and shall be sworn or affirmed to appraise the property which the surviving spouse shall choose under the provisions of this act Each of such appraisers shall receive as compensation for each day or fraction thereof necessarily employed in the performance their duties the sum of two dollars and fifty cents and such additional amount as may be allowed by said court

(c) Upon due proof of compliance with such requirements as to notice by advertisement or otherwise as may be prescribed by the orphans' court by general rule or otherwise such court may confirm such appraisement and set apart such personal or real estate or both to the surviving spouse subject to claims of creditors of the decedent and to the lien of debts of the decendent

(d) Whenever the surviving spouse of any intestate shall claim the said five thousand dollars in value or any part thereof under the provisions of this act out of real estate left by said intestate and the real estate appraised cannot be divided so as to set apart the amount so claimed in value without prejudice to or spoiling the whole or any parcel of said real estate and the appraisers shall appraise and value the same at any sum exceeding the amount so claimed it shall be lawful for the orphans' court to which such application shall be made to confirm such appraisement and to set apart for the use of the surviving spouse such real estate conditioned however that the said surviving spouse shall pay the amount of the valuation or appraisement in excess of the amount so claimed within one year from the date of confirmation of such valuation If the said surviving spouse shall refuse to take the real estate at such appraisement or shall fail to make payment as above provided the court on application of any person interested shall direct the executor or administrator to sell the same and the procedure in such case shall be the same as is provided by law in cases of sales of real estate for the payment of debts of a decedent

(e) The real estate if taken by the surviving spouse as aforesaid shall vest in him or her and his or her heirs or assigns upon his or her paying the surplus over and above the sum of five thousand dollars or such part thereof as may be claimed out of the real estate to the parties entitled thereto Where the real estate is sold as provided in clause (d) of this section the sum of five thousand dollars or such part thereof as may be claimed out of the real estate shall be paid out of the purchase money to the surviving spouse and the balance after payment of costs and expenses shall be distributed to the heirs or other persons legally entitled thereto

(f) In all cases where the appraisement of property real or personal or both is confirmed and the property set apart to the surviving spouse under the provisions of this section said surviving spouse shall be entitled to receive for his or her own use the net rents income interest and dividends thereof from the date of the death of such intestate Where the property set apart shall consist of real estate appraised at a sum in excess of five thousand dollars or such part thereof as may be claimed out of the real estate and the surviving spouse shall fail to pay the excess over the amount so claimed as provided in clause (d) of this section and the property shall thereupon be sold there shall be deducted from the sum to be paid to said surviving spouse out of the proceeds of such sale a proportionate part of the rents and income of such real estate received by such surviving spouse

(g) Whenever the surviving spouse of any intestate shall claim the said five thousand dollars in value or any part thereof under the provisions of this section out of real estate left by said intestate and lying in any county of this state other than the county wherein said intestate shall be domiciled at the time of his or her death and the orphans' court having jurisdiction of the accounts of the personal representatives of said intestate shall be satisfied upon petition filed of the propriety of allowing such claim the court may make a decree authorizing such surviving spouse to file his or her petition in the orphans court of the county wherein such real estate may lie or in a case where the real estate is divided by a county line in the county where the mansion house may be situated or if there be no mansion house in the county where the principal improvements may be or if there be no improvements in either county praying for the appointment of two appraisers

Upon the filing of such petition duly verified the latter court shall appoint such appraisers who shall be duly sworn or affirmed and shall appraise said real estate and shall be compensated as provided in clause (b) of this section and proceedings shall thereupon be had in said court and subject to its supervision and control in the same manner and with the same effect as is provided in clauses (c) (d) (e) and (f) of this section In every such case a certified copy of the decree confirming such appraisement or if such decree of sale and the confirmation thereof as the case may be shall forthwith be filed with the clerk of the orphans' court having jurisdiction of the accounts of the personal representatives of said intestate

The court having jurisdiction of the accounts shall in all cases have exclusive jurisdiction of the distribution of the surplus paid by such surviving spouse or of the proceeds of such sale after the payment of costs and expenses as the case may be

(h) In all cases where a decree shall be entered by any orphans' court confirming an appraisement of real estate and setting apart the same for the use of the surviving spouse a certified copy of such decree shall be recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds of each county where such real estate shall lie in the deed book and shall be indexed by the recorder in the grantors' index under the name of the decedent and in the grantees index under the name of the surviving spouse and shall be registered in the survey bureau or with the proper authorities empowered to keep a register of real estate if any there be in said county and the charges for recording and registering shall be the same as are provided by law for similar services and shall be paid by said surviving spouse

Section 3 The shares of the estate directed by this act to be allotted to the widow shall be in lieu and full satisfaction of her dower at common law so far as relates to land of which the husband died seised and her share in lands aliened by the husband in his lifetime without her joining in the conveyance shall be the same as her share in lands of which the husband died seised The widow shall be entitled to the same share in an estate in remainder vested in interest in the husband during his lifetime although the particular estate shall not terminate before the death of the husband

Section 4 The shares of the estate directed by this act to be allotted to the surviving husband shall be in lieu and full satisfaction of his curtesy at common law The surviving husband shall be entitled to the same share in an estate in remainder vested in interest in the wife during her lifetime as in property of which she dies seised although the particular estate shall not terminate before the death of the wife

Section 5 No husband who shall have for one year or upwards previous to the death of his wife wilfully neglected or refused to provide for his wife or shall have for that period or upwards wilfully and maliciously deserted her shall have the right to claim any title or interest in her real or personal estate after her decease under the provisions of this act

Section 6 No wife who shall have for one year or upwards previous to the death of her husband wilfully and maliciously deserted her husband shall have the right to claim any title or interest in his real or personal estate after his decease under the provisions of this act

Section 13 In all cases where under the provisions of this act the real estate shall decend to and the personal estate shall be distributed among the next of kin of an intestate the real as well as the personal estate shall pass to and be enjoyed by such next of kin without regard to the ancestor or other relation from whom such estate may have come it being the true intent and meaning of this act that the rule excluding from the inheritance of real estate persons not of the blood of the ancestor or other relation from whom such real estate descended or by whom it was given or devised to the intestate be abrogated and that the heir at common law shall not take in any case to the exclusion of other heirs and kindred standing in the same degree of consanguinity with him to the intestate

Section 14 Except as otherwise provided in section fifteen the foregoing provisions of this act relative to descent and distribution of real and personal estate among the heirs and next to kin of intestates shall be construed to mean such persons only as may have been born in lawful wedlock

Section 15 (a) The mother of an illegitimate child her heirs and next of kin the maternal grandfather and grandmother of said illegitimate child and said illegitimate child its heirs and next of kin shall have capacity to take or inherit from each other personal estate as next of kin and real estate as heirs under the foregoing provisions of this act in the same manner and to the same extent as if said child or children had been born in lawful wedlock

(b) Every illegitimate child shall be considered as a brother or sister to every other child of its mother legitimate or illegitimate

(c) The intent of this section is to legitimate an illegitimate child only so far as is provided by clauses (a) and (b) hereof This section is not intended to change the existing law with regard to the father of such a child and his heirs and next of kin

(d) In any and every case where the father and mother of an illegitimate child or children shall enter into the bonds of lawful wedlock or shall heretofore have entered into the bonds of lawful wedlock such child or children shall be legitimated for all purposes of inheritance by from or through such child or children under the provisions of this act as if he or they had been born during the wedlock of his or their parents

Section 16 (a) Any minor or adult person adopted according to law and the adopting parent or parents shall respectively inherit and take by devolution from and through each other personal estate as next of kin and real estate as heirs under the provisions of this act as fully as if the person adopted had been born a lawful child of the adopting parent or parents

(b) The person adopted shall for all purposes of inheritance and taking by devolution be a member of the family of the adopting parent or parents The adoptive relatives of the person adopted shall be entitled to inherit and take from and through such person to the exclusion of his or her natural parents grandparents and collateral relatives but the surviving spouse of such adopted person and the children and descendants of such adopted person shall have all his her and their respective rights under this act Adopted persons shall not be entitled to inherit or take from or through their natural parents grandparents or collateral relatives but each adopted person shall have all his or her rights under this act in the estates of his or her spouse children and descendants

Section 17 (a) In default of known heirs or kindred competent as aforesaid the real estate of such intestate shall be vested in the surviving spouse of such intestate if any and the surviving spouse shall be entitled to the whole of the personal estate

(b) If any person shall die or has died intestate leaving a surviving spouse and no known heirs or kindred such surviving spouse his or her heirs or legal representatives may at any time after the expiration of one year from the death of such intestate and after final settlement of the administration accounts of such intestate present a petition to the orphans' court of the county wherein any real estate of such intestate may lie or in the case of personal estate to the orphans' court having jurisdcition of said administration accounts setting forth that the said intestate died leaving no known heirs or kindred and seised or possessed of real or personal estate which by virtue of this act vested in such surviving spouse Such petition shall be verified by the oath or affirmation of the party petitioning or of some other person knowing the facts

Upon the presentation of said petition the said court shall grant a citation to all the heirs or other persons interested or claiming any interest in said estate to appear in said court at some time certain and show cause why a decree should not be made ordering and directing in the case of real estate that the title thereto be adjudged to be in such surviving spouse his or her heirs or in the case of personal estate that the administrator or administrators of the estate of said intestate shall pay over to such surviving spouse his or her legal representatives the balance of such intestate's estate in his or their hands Notice of such citation shall be published for such length of time and in such manner as the court in its discretion shall think proper

If upon the return of the citation and due proof of publication thereof agreeably to the order of the court no heirs or kindred claiming said estate shall appear nor any good cause be shown to the contrary the court shall order and decree as aforesaid and in the case of real estate a certified copy of such decree shall be recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county where said real estate shall lie in the deed book and shall be indexed by the recorder in the grantors' index under the name of the decedent and in the grantees' index under the name of the surviving spouse and shall be registered in the survey bureau or with the proper authorities empowered to keep a register of real estate if any there be in said county The charges for recording and registering shall be the same as are provided by law for similar services The record of such decree shall be deemed and held to be prima facie proof of the facts therein set forth with like force and effect as such citation any person or persons shall appear in court claiming to be heirs or kindred of such intestate whose rights to the said estate shall be disputed by such surviving spouse his or her heirs or legal representatives then the court may direct an issue to determine the matter or may make such order therein as they shall think proper

In all cases the decree of such court entered upon the failure of any heirs or kindred to appear or after the trial of such an issue or otherwise shall not be subject to be reopened by said court after the expiration of six months from the date of its entry except as herinafter provided Any such cause may be remived by appeal to the Supreme Court or Superior Court in the same manner as appeals are now taken by law in cases determined in the orphans' court or tried by jury upon issues directed by that court Where the record in such cause is thus removed to an appellate court the six months' period within which the decree is subject to be reopened by the orphans' court shall cease to run until the return of the record from the appellate court

Section 18 The real estate of such intestate shall be vested in the person or persons entitled thereto under the provisions of this act for such estate as the intestate had therein and such person or persons shall be entitled to the personal estate absolutely

Section 19 Wherever real or personal estate shall descend to or be distributed among several persons whether lineal or collateral heirs or kindred standing in the same degree of consanguinity to the intestate if there shall be only one of such degree he shall take the whole of such estate and if there shall be more than one they shall take in equal shares and if real estate shall hold the same as tenants in common

Section 20 Descendants and relatives of an intestate begotten before the death of the intestate and born thereafter shall in all cases inherit and take in like manner as if they had been born in the lifetime of such intestate

Section 21 All relatives and persons concerned in the estate of any intestate who shall not lay legal claim to their respective shares of the personal estate within seven years of the decease of the intestate shall be debarred from the same forever Provided That if any such relative or person shall at the time of the decease of the intestate be within the age of twenty-one years he or she shall be entitled to receive and recover the same if he or she shall lay legal claim thereto within seven years after coming to full age

Section 22 If any person other than a surviving spouse entitled under the provisions of this act to inherit or take real or personal property from such intestate shall have any estate by settlement of such intestate or shall have been advanced by him in his lifetime either in real or personal estate the amount of such settlement or advancement shall be charged against the share of the person who shall have received it so that the total amount received by him including the amount of such settlement or advancement shall not exceed the amount received by each of the other persons who are equally entitled under the provisions of this act to inherit or take from said intestate

Section 23 No person who shall be finally adjudged guilty either as principal or accessory of murder of the first or second degree shall be entitled to inherit or take any part of the real or personal estate of the person killed as surviving spouse heir or next of kin to such person under the provisions of this act

Section 24 In default of all such known heirs or kindred or surviving spouse competent to take as aforesaid the real and personal estate of such intestate shall go to and be vested in the Commonwealth by escheat

Section 25 Nothing in this act contained relative to a distribution of personal estate among kindred shall be construed to extend to the personal estate of an intestate whose domicile at the time of his death was out of this Commonwealth

Section 26 This act shall be known and may be cited as the Intestate Act of nineteen hundred and seventeen

Section 27 This act shall take effect on the thirty-first day of December nineteen hundred and seventeen and shall apply to the estates real and personal of all persons dying intestate on or after said day As to the estates real and personal of all persons dying before that day the existing laws shall remain in full force and effect

Section 28 This act of Assembly is intended as an entire and complete system for the descent and distribution of the estates real and personal of persons dying intestate The following acts and parts of acts of assembly are hereby repealed as respectively indicated but so far only as relates to the estates real and personal of any person or persons dying intestate on or after the thirty-first day of December nineteen hundred and seventeen The repeal of the first section of an act shall not repeal the enacting clause

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That every person of sound mind and of the age of twenty-one years or upwards whether married or single may dispose by will of his or her real estate whether such estate is held in fee simple or for the life or lives of any other person or persons and whether in severalty joint tenancy or common and also of his or her personal estate

Section 2 Every will shall be in writing and unless the person making the same shall be prevented by the extremity of his last sickness shall be signed by him at the end thereof or by some person in his presence and by his express direction and in all cases shall be proved by the oaths or affirmations of two or more competent witnesses otherwise such will shall be of no effect Provided That the presence of dispositive or testamentary words or directions or the appointment of an executor or the like after the signature to a will whether written before or after the execution thereof shall not invalidate that which precedes the signature

Section 3 If the testator be unable to sign his name for any reason other than the extremity of his last sickness a will to which his name is subscribed in his presence by his direction and authority and to which he makes his mark or cross unless unable so to do in which case the mark or cross shall not be required shall be as valid as though he had signed his name thereto Provided That such will shall be proved by the oaths or affirmations of two or more competent witnesses

Section 4 Personal estate may be bequeathed by a nuncupative will under the following restrictions

(a) Such will shall in all cases be made during the last sickness of the testator and in the house of his habitation or dwelling or where he has resided for the space of ten days or more next before the making of such will except where such person shall be surprised by sickness being from his own house

(b) Where the sum or value bequeathed shall exceed one hundred dollars it shall be proved that the testator at the time of pronouncing the bequest did bid the persons present or some of them to bear witness that such was his will or to that effect and in all cases the foregoing requisites shall be proved by two or more witnesses who were present at the making of such will

(c) No testimony shall be received to prove any nuncupative will after six months elapsed from the speaking of the alleged testamentary words unless the said testimony or the substance thereof were committed to writing within six days after the making of said will

Section 5 Notwithstanding this act any mariner being at sea or any soldier being in actual military service may dispose of his movables wages and personal estate as he might have done before the making of this act

Section 6 No estate real or personal shall be bequeathed or devised to any body politic or to any person in trust for religious or charitable uses except the same be done by will attested by two credible and at the time disinterested witnesses at least thirty days before the decease of the testator and all dispositions of property contrary hereto shall be void and go to the residuary legatee or devisee heirs of next of kin according to law A disinterested witness within the meaning of this section is a witness not interested in such religious or charitable use this section not being intended to apply to a witness interested in some other devise or bequest in the same instrument

Section 7 The emblements or crops growing on lands held by a widow in dower or by any other tenant for life may be disposed of by will as other personal estate Rents and other periodical payments accruing to any tenant for life or to any other person entitled under the laws of this Commonwealth regulating the decent and partition of real estate may so far as the same may have accrued on the day of death of such tenant for life or other person be disposed of by will in like manner

Section 8 (a) Every person competent to make a will being the father or adopting father of any minor child unmarried may appoint a testamentary guardian for such child during his or her minority or for any shorter period Provided That such testamentary guardian shall not be entitled to the custody of the person of such child unless the mother or adopting mother if surviving shall relinquish such custody or unless the best interests of the child shall require that such surviving mother or adopting mother should not retain the custody of the person of such child

(b) Every person competent to make a will being the mother or adopting mother of any minor child unmarried may appoint a testamentary guardian for such child during his or her minority or for any shorter period whenever the father or adopting father of such child shall be deceased and has not appointed such a guardian Such mother or adopting mother who shall leave to such child an estate either real or personal may appoint a testamentary guardian for such estate of the child whether the father or adopting father of such child shall be living or dead and whether he shall or shall not have appointed a testamentary guardian for such child

(c) No father who shall have for one year or upwards previous to his death wilfully neglected or refused to provide for his child or children and no mother who shall have for a like period deserted her child or children or failed to perform her parental duties shall have the right to appoint any testamentary guardian for such child or children

Section 9 Every will shall be construed with reference to the real and personal estate comprised in it to speak and take effect as if it had been executed immediately before the death of the testator unless a contrary intention shall appear by the will

Section 10 The real estate acquired by a testator after making his will shall pass by a general devise unless a contrary intention be manifest on the face of the will

Section 11 A general devise of the real estate of the testator or of the real estate of the testator in any place or in the occupation of any person mentioned in his will or otherwise described in a general manner shall be construed to include any real estate or any real estate to which such description shall extend as the case may be which he may have power to appoint in any manner he may think proper and shall operate as an execution of such power unless a contrary intention shall appear by the will In like manner a bequest of the personal estate of the testator or any bequest of personal property described in a general manner shall be contrued to include any personal estate or any personal estate to which such description shall extend as the case may be which he may have power to appoint in any manner he may think proper and shall operate as an execution of such power unless a contrary intention shall appear by the will

Section 12 All devises of real estate shall pass the whole estate of the testator in the premises devised although there be no words of inheritance or of perpetuity unless it appears by a devise over or by words of limitation or otherwise in the will that the testator intended to devise a less estate

Section 13 Whenever by any devise an estate in fee tail would be created according to the common law of this State such devise shall be taken and construed to pass an estate in fee simple and as such shall be inheritable and freely alienable

Section 14 In any devise or bequest of real or personal estate the words "die without issue" or "die without leaving issue" or "have no issue" or any other words which may import either a want or failure of issue of any person in his lifetime or at the time of his death or an indefinite failure of his issue shall be construed to mean a want or failure of issue in the lifetime or at the death of such person and not an indefinite failure of his issue unless a contrary intention shall appear by the will in which such devise or bequest is made

Section 15 (a) No devise or legacy in favor of a child or children or other lineal descendant or descendants of any testator whether such children or descendants be designated by name or as class shall lapse or become void by reason of the decease of such legatee or devisee in the lifetime of the testator if such devisee or legatee shall leave issue surviving the testator but such devise or legacy shall be good and available in favor of such surviving issue with like effect as if such devisee or legatee had survived the testator unless the testator shall in the will direct otherwise

(b) Where any testator shall not leave any lineal descendants who would receive the benefit of any lapsed or void devise or legacy no devise or legacy made in favor of a brother or sister or of brothers or sisters of such testator or in favor of the children of a brothers or sister of such testator whether such brothers or sisters or children of brothers or sisters be designated by name or as a class shall be deemed or held to lapse or become void by reason of the decease of such devisee or legatee in the lifetime of the testator if such devisee or legatee shall leave issue surviving the testator but such devise or legacy shall be good and available in favor of such surviving issue with like effect as if such devisee or legatee had survived the testator unless the testator shall in the will direct otherwise

(c) Unless a contrary intention shall appear by the will such real or personal estate or interests therein as shall be comprised or intended to be comprised in any devise or bequest in such will contained which shall fail or be void by reason of the death of the devisee or legatee in the lifetime of the testator or by reason of such devise or bequest being contrary to law or otherwise incapable of taking effect or which shall be revoked by the testator shall be included in the residuary devise or bequest if any contained in such will In any case where such devise or bequest which shall fail or be void or shall be revoked as aforesaid shall be contained in the residuary clause of such will it shall pass to and be divided among the other residuary devisees or legatees if any there be in proportion to their respective interests in such residue

Section 16 (a) Whenever in any will a bequest or devise shall be made to the child or children of testator without naming such child or children such bequest or devise shall be construed to include any adopted child or children of the testator unless a contrary intention shall appear by the will

(b) Whenever in any will a bequest or devise shall be made to the child or children of any person other than the testator without naming such child or children such bequest or devise shall be construed to include any adopted child or children of such other person who were adopted before the date of the will unless a contrary intention shall appear by the will

Section 17 All pecuniary legacies contained in any will shall be charged upon and payable out of any real estate not specifically devised where the personal estate is insufficient for their payment or where the personal estate though originally sufficint has been wasted or misapplied by the executor unless a contrary intention shall appear by the will

Section 18 Unless the testator shall otherwise direct by his will the devisee of real estate which is subject to mortgage shall take subject thereto and shall not be entitled to exoneration out of the other estate of the testator real or personal and this whether the mortgage was created by the testator or by a previous owner or owners and notwithstanding any general direction by the testator that his debts be paid

(h) When all the persons for whose benefit a valid trust shall have been created by will for a term of years or for life shall have removed from this state into any other state territory or possession of the United States to reside permanently therein the orphans' court having jurisdiction of such trust is hereby authorized and empowered on application by or on behalf of all the persons interested in the trust to direct the trustee or trustees appointed in and by said will to pay over said trust moneys or transfer the securities in which they may have been invested to a trustee or trustees duly appointed by the court of such other state territory or possession upon the production to said court of satisfactory proof by certificates of the appointment of such trustee or trustees in the other state terriory or possession the authority of such trustee or trustees to receive such moneys or securities and the entry of bond and security of proof of the fact that under the laws of such state territory or possession security is not required such certificate to be authenticated in the manner provided in clause (g) paragraph one of this section and upon the production of satisfactory proof that the removal of the property will not conflict with the terms or limitations attending the rights which the cestuis que trust have in such money or securities

Section 59 (a) The orphans' court of each county shall have the care of the persons of minors resident within said county and of their estates and shall have power to admit such minors over the age of fourteen when and as often as there shall be occasion to make choice of guardians and to appoint guardians for such as are under the age of fourteen or otherwise incompetent to make choice for themselves Such appointment or admission of a guardian by the orphans' court of the county in which the minor resides shall have the like effect in every other county in this Commonwealth as in that by the orphans' court of which he shall have been so admitted or appointed

(b) Persons of the same religious persuasion as the parents of the minors shall in all cases be preferred by the court in their appointment as guardians of the persons of such minors

(c) No executor administrator or trustee shall be admitted or appointed by the orphans' court guardian of a minor having an interest in the estate under the care of such fiduciary Provided That nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to the case of a testamentary guardian

(d) The orphans' court shall not appoint the father or the mother of a minor as guardian of the estate of said minor Provided That nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to the case of a testamentary guardian And provided further That where the estate of the minor shall be of the value of one hundred dollars or less the court may in its discretion authorize payment or delivery thereof to the natural guardian of the minor or the person by whom the minor is maintained without the appointment of a guardian by the court or the entry of security

(e) The orphans' court of each county shall have power to appoint guardians of the estates of minors residing out of the Commonwealth in all cases where such minors are possessed of estates lying within the jurisdiction of said court upon the petition of the minors if over the age of fourteen and if it be reasonably practicable for such minors to present their own petitions and in other cases on the petitions of persons qualified to act as their next friends without requiring the said minors to appear in court to make choice of such guardian

(f) The orphans' court of each county shall have power to appoint guardians of the persons and estates of minors

residents of such county who may be absent in the service of the United States or who may be physically unable to appear and choose for themselves or who may be so distant from the seat of justice of the county as to make it unnecessarily expensive for them to appear upon the petition of the minors if over the age of fourteen and if it be reasonably practicable for such minors to present their own petitions and in other cases on the petitions of persons qualified to act as their next friends without requiring the said minors to appear in court to make choice of such guardians Provided That when the appointment shall be made on petition of a next friend the minor if of the age of fourteen or on attaining that age may subsequently appear and choose his guardian

(g) The orphans' court having jurisdiction whenever they may deem it proper may require a bond with good and sufficient corporate security or with two good and sufficient individual sureties from every guardian of a minor whether admitted or appointed by the court or appointed by will or in the case of a corporation duly authorized by its charter or by law to act as guardian said court may permit such corporation to give its own bond without surety Guardians' bonds shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the court and be considered in trust for all persons interested the bonds shall be taken to the Commonwealth in such penalties as the court shall direct and the condition shall be in the following form

The condition of this obligation is such that if the abovebounded A B guardian of C D a minor child of E F (late of deceased) shall at least once in every three years and at any other time when required by the orphans' court for the county of render a just and true account of the management of the property and estate of the said minor under his care and shall also deliver up the said property agreeably to the order and decree of the said court or the directions of law and shall in all respects faithfully perform the duties of guardian of the said C D then the above obligation shall be void otherwise it shall be and remain in full force and virtue

Provided That nothing in this act contained shall be construed to deprive a minor of any action or remedy to which he may be entitled at the common law against his guardian for any cause whatever

(h) Every guardian shall within thirty days after any property of his ward shall have come into his hands or possession or into the hands and possession of any person for him file in the office of the clerk of the court a just and true inventory and statement on oath or affirmation of all such property or estate

(i) When any one shall die leaving an infant child or children without having made an adequate provision for the support and education of such child or children during their minority the orphans' court may direct a suitable periodical allowance out of the minor's estate for the support and education of such minor according to the circumstances of each case which order may from time to time be varied by the court according to the age of the minor and the circumstances of the case

(j) 1 Every guardian whether required by the court to give security or not shall at least once in every three years and at any other time when so required by the court render an account of the management of the minor's property under his care which accounts shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the orphans' court for the information of the court and the inspection of all parties concerned

2 After the filing of such account or accounts such guardian or any person qualified to act as next friend of the minor may petition the orphans' court of the respective county for leave to have said account or accounts examined or audited and confirmed with the same force and effect as executors' administrators and trustees' accounts are examined or audited and confirmed

3 Such petition shall set forth the reason why such account or accounts should be examined or audited and confirmed and shall contain full information as to who may be next of kin or nearest relative of age to such minor or minors and all others interested in the minor's estate together with their addresses if it is possible to give them

4 The court may thereupon direct to whom and what notice if any shall be given to such next of kin or nearest relative of age or the parties interested in said minor's estate including the minor or minors if fourteen years of age or over of the filing of said account or accounts and presentation of said petition

5 After the filing of due proof of the service of said notice if any be required by the court the court may if it be satisfied that any reasonable necessity exists for the examination of audit and confirmation of such account or accounts asked by said petition thereupon appoint some suitable person to act as guardian ad litem for the minor or minors interested in said account or accounts and the same shall be thoroughly examined by said guardian ad litem who shall make report to the court of the result of his examination or the court may examine and audit said account itself and after said examination or audit is completed a final decree of confirmation as to the matters contained in said account or accounts and said report or reports and said audit or audits shall be made by the court which decree of confirmation shall be final and conclusive as to matters contained in said accounts reports or audits and decrees with the same force and effect or such decrees now have in respect to the accounts of executors administrators and trustees and the audits thereof

6 The costs of said audits or examinations including a fee for said guardian ad litem to be fixed by the court shall be allowed as part of the administration expenses and be paid by such guardians out of the property of the ward in their hands and allowed as credits in said decrees or the said costs shall in the discretion of the court be paid by the said guardians personally

7 Appeals from such decrees and rehearings of such accounts shall be allowed in the same manner and form and with the same force and effect as are allowed in the similar cases of other fiduciaries

8 Every such guardian unless previously discharged or removed shall on the arrival of his ward at full age file in the register's office a full and complete account of his management of the minor's property under his care including all the matters embraced in each partial account except where an examination or audit and final decree of confirmation has taken place as hereinbefore provided in which case said final account shall include only such matters as were not included in such former accounts and decrees aforesaid And the decree of the orphans' court upon such final account shall like other decrees of the court be conclusive upon all parties unless reversed modified or altered on appeal

(k) In all cases in which proceedings may be had in any orphans' court affecting the interest of a minor notice of such proceedings shall be given to the guardian of such minor in the same manner as is provided by law in the case of persons of full age If such minor has no guardian appointed by an orphans' court of this Commonwealth or by will probated within this Commonwealth the orphans' court in which such proceedings shall be pending shall appoint a guardian ad litem for such minor in the same manner as is provided by this act in the case of ordinary applications for the appointment of guardians If such minor or his next friend shall fail or refuse to apply for the appointment of a guardian ad litem as aforesaid then such guardian shall be appointed by said court on petition filed by any person interested in such proceedings Notice shall be served as aforesaid upon such guardian ad litem whenever notice shall be requisite

Section 60 (a) Whenever it shall be made known to the orphans' court of the county in which shall be found all or the greater portion of the estate within this Commonwealth of any person who has been a resident either of this Commonwealth or of any other state territory or possession of the United States or of any foreign country and who has absented himself from his usual place of abode by the petition verified by affidavit of the husband wife or next of kin of such person or other persons interested in the order named such petition being supported by the affidavits of at least two disinterested residents of the city borough township or other territorial subdivision where such person was last known to reside that such person has been absent from his usual place of abode for the space of one year that his whereabouts is not and has not been known for the space of one year and he has left an estate either real or personal or both situated owing or belonging to him within this Commonwealth without any person to take charge of or manage the same it shall be lawful for said court to appoint one or more trustees who shall take charge of and manage the estate of such person so being absent and who shall be under the control and direction of said court

(b) Such trustee or trustees before taking charge of such estate shall give bond in twice the amount of the personal property and seven years' rental of real estate with sufficient corporate security or two sufficient individual sureties to be approved by said court for the faithful discharge of his or their duties and shall within thirty days after his or their appointment file an inventory of said estate and render an account at least once in three years or oftener if required by said court Provided That in the case of a corporation duly authorized by its charter or by law to act as such trustee said court may permit such corporation to give its own bond without surety

(c) If such person so being absent shall return before the expiration of seven years from the time when he was last heard of or before letters testamentary or of administration shall have been issued in his estate on the ground of his presumed death or in case such letters shall have been so issued before the said trustee or trustees shall have paid or delivered over the property or estate to the excutors or administrators so appointed then said trustee or trustees shall render an account and restore to such person the property and estate after deducting the reasonable expenses of said trust and compensation of said trustee or trustees If such absent person shall die within such period of seven years and letters testamentary or of administration shall be duly issued in his estate or if after the expiration of said period of seven years letters testamentary or of administration shall be issued in his estate on the ground of his presumed death then said trustee or trustees shall render an account and pay and deliver over to the executors or administrators of such person the property and estate after deducting expenses and compensation as aforesaid

Any person violating this section shall upon conviction be liable to a penalty of twenty-five dollars for each ferret bred for sale sold or in any manner offered for sale or had in possession contrary to this section

Section 6 Any person desiring to practice taxidermy for profit shall before beginning such practice secure from the secretary of the Board of Game Commissioners a certificate authorizing him to act thus and the possession of such certificate shall authorize such person to receive from any person the skin or any part thereof of any bird or animal that has been either legally or accidentally killed and to tan or cure or mount the same either himself or through any legitimate employe for wages or hire but no taxidermist or other person shall remove out of the Commonwealth or permit such removal out of the Commonwealth or sell such mounted specimen before written permission to so do has been procured from the president of the Board of Game Commissioners

Proof of the fact that any person shall attempt to practice taxidermy for profit or shall collect or attempt to collect either wild birds of the Commonwealth or the nests or the eggs of such birds protected by the laws of this Commonwealth without first securing the license required by this act shall render such person liable to a penalty of twenty-five dollars for each offense and in addition to the fines and penalties imposed by the laws of this Commonwealth for the taking or killing during the close season of such bird or animal as may be found in his possession or the interfering with birds nests as the case may be

The holder of a certificate authorizing the practice of taxidermy shall be required before a second or any other certificate shall be issued to him to file with the Secretary of the Board of Game Commissioners at Harrisburg an itemized statement in writing under oath of all skins or parts thereof of either wild birds or animals either mounted by himself or under his direction or sold by him under the provisions of this act with the name and place of residence of the persons from whom the same were received and to whom such specimens were sold He shall also answer truthfully and without evasion any question relative to the ownership of any specimen of bird or animal found in his possession or under his control or that has passed through his hands killed in this Commonwealth by any person other than himself that may be asked him by an officer or representative of the said Board of Game Commissioners A failure to so report or to answer the questions asked under the provisions of this section shall be considered a just cause for refusal upon the part of the Board of Game Commissioners to renew the certificate of any taxidermist

The petition necessary to the securing of such certificate shall be accompanied by the written statement of at least two well-known citizens of the community in which said applicant may reside certifying to the good character and fitness of said applicant to be entrusted with said authority and such applicant shall pay to the Secretary of said Board the sum of one dollar for such certificate.

Section 7 A certificate to be known as a Propagating Certificate may be issued by the Board of Game Commissioners to any accredited person residing within this Commonwealth of the age of twenty-one years or upwards permitting the holder thereof and his assistants to breed or raise game-quadrupeds or game-birds of any kind both or either and to sell the same dead or alive at any time within the Commonwealth under the following restrictions and regulations

Any person or corporation or association desiring to raise either animals or birds classed as game for sale shall file with the Secretary of the Board of Game Commissioners at Harrisburg a petition asking for this privilege

In all cases where the premises intended to be used for this purpose are under the control of a company or association the petition shall bear the name of the president of such body and the certificate shall be issued in his name The petition shall be accompanied by a written description of the premises to be used for such purpose with the location which said premises in the matter of the raising of small game may be in such form as to the operator thereof seems best suited to his purposes so long as wild game is prevented from coming onto such property.

In the matter of the raising of deer or other large game the preserve shall in all cases be surrounded by a wire fence of approved pattern for game preserves with a height of not less than eight feet so constructed and maintained as to absolutely prevent wild deer from jumping into said preserve or in any manner passing into said preserve from the outside It being also distinctly understood that before the fence surrounding any preserve of this character shall be completed or closed all wild deer that may be found upon said territory shall be as far as possible driven therefrom by the owner of such lands under the direction and supervision of an officer of the Game Commission

The bond hereinafter provided for shall be forfeited to the Commonwealth and the certificate become void upon the conviction of the principal therein named of having violated any provision of this section or having knowingly or negligently permitted any one to violate any of the game laws on said premises

Upon notification of the favorable consideration of this petition by the said Board the applicant shall pay to said Secretary the sum of one dollar and file a duly executed bond properly secured in the sum of five hundred dollars conditioned for the faithful keeping upon the part of the principal therein named and his employes upon said premises of all the provisions of this section and all other game laws of this State He shall keep as nearly as possible a just and true account in a book to be kept for that purpose only of all game raised on said premises a just and true account of all game brought to said premises from outside of the preserve the number of birds or animals with the time they were received the place from whence they were shipped and the name of the shipper He shall keep a strict account of all game sold its character the number of birds or quadrupeds the time and manner of shipment with the name and address of the purchaser and shall file with the Secretary of said Board at Harrisburg an itemized statement from the before-named book account under oath at the close of every twelve months beginning with the date of the certificate Data thus collected shall be held strictly confidential and shall be used by said board only for the purpose of satisfying themselves that the law relative to this subject is being obeyed within said preserve or as evidence in cases where they are satisfied the law is not being obeyed

The before-named book together with the premises described and all game thereon shall be open to inspection upon demand of any member of the Board of Game Commissioners or of its Secretary or to any Game Protector upon the presentation by such Game Protector of written instructions from the Secretary of said Board, directing him to thus inspect such plant and the refusal of any person holding a propagating certificate to permit such inspection by any of the officers above named or the neglect or refusal upon the part of said holder of such certificate to comply with the reasonable request of the Secretary of said Board in any matter pertaining to said plant in which the said Board has a legal right to be heard shall be sufficient cause for refusal upon the part of said Board to renew such propagation certificate

Where game birds or animals of any kind shall be raised in captivity under the provisions of this section they may be sold or given away and shipped alive from said enclosure for propagation purposes within the Commonwealth or may be killed within said enclosure for sale or gift within the Commonwealth without regard to sex or numbers at any time of the year under the following restrictions

All boxes or crates or packages of any description in which small game may be shipped or removed from said premises shall before removal therefrom have attached thereto a card or marker to be supplied in duplicate at cost by the Board of Game Commissioners upon each part of which shall be plainly written in the blank spaces left for that purpose the name and address of the purchaser with the contents of the box crate or package One part of this card or marker shall be attached to the receptacle containing the game shipped and the other part shall be immediately sent to the Board of Game Commissioners at Harrisburg

Before any deer or elk or animal classed as large game shall be removed or shipped from any licensed propagating plant there shall first be attached to either the crate or box in which the animal is shipped or to the animal itself a tag or marker in such form as may be decided upon by the Board of Game Commissioners which said tag or marker shall be supplied in duplicate by said board at cost and it shall be the duty of any person raising and selling or shipping such deer or elk or large game animal to attach to either the crate or box in which a live animal is shipped or to the body of a dead animal raised in such preserve one of these tags or markers and to forward the duplicate thereof at once to the Board of Game Commissioners at Harrisburg

The tag or marker so attached to either crate or box or animal shall remain thus attached until the living birds or animals are released from the crate or box or the dead body of the animal is cut up for retail purposes or final consumption after which the tag or marker shall be removed from the crate or box or remainder of the carcass by the person finally disposing of the animal and shall be at once forwarded to the Board of Game Commissioners at Harrisburg

Any person failing to comply with the requirements of this section in the matter of attaching tags or markers before shipment of birds or animals or in any other manner violating the provisions of this section relating to such shipment shall upon conviction be sentenced to pay a penalty of one hundred dollars for each offense And any person failing to comply with the requirements of this section in the matter of returning to the Board of Game Commissioners the tags so affixed shall upon conviction be sentenced to pay a penalty of ten dollars for each offense Provided That no provision of this act relating to license or tags shall be considered to apply to persons who may raise small game to release within the Commonwealth or to be given away or to either large or small game sold alive to a representative of the State for propagating purposes within the Commonwealth

Section 8 It shall be unlawful for any person to wilfully or wantonly remove or mutilate or destroy any tags or markers so affixed to any crate or box or animal in compliance with the requirements of this act at any time or at any place except as designated by this act or by authority of the consignor or consignee of such game or of some officer of some court of this Commonwealth or of some Game Protector of the Commonwealth Any person violating this section shall upon conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a penalty of fifty dollars for each tag or marker wantonly removed mutilated or destroyed

Section 9 It shall be unlawful for any person to wilfully use any such tag or marker prescribed by this act for the purpose of protecting or carrying game of any kind taken or killed outside of licensed preserves within this Commonwealth or for the purpose of protecting or carrying a second shipment of game from any such licensed preserves within this Commonwealth Any person convicted of such offense shall be sentenced to pay a penalty of one hundred dollars for each tag used in violation of this section

Section 10 It shall be unlawful for any person to bring or in any manner to have transported into this Commonwealth from any other State or country any living specimen or any egg thereof of the bird known as the European starling or any other bird or any living animal the importation of which is prohibited by the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States under the provisions of any law of this Nation or to release within this Commonwealth any fox wild-cat mink or weasel brought into this State from another State or country or reared in captivity

It shall be unlawful to bring into or to sell within this Commonwealth living game of any kind either birds or animals that have been imported from any other State or Nation or to release within the Commonwealth for propagating purposes imported game of any kind excepting under a certificate to be issued from the Department of Agriculture of Pennsylvania after inspection by a representative of the Livestock Sanitary Board of that department and quarantine when necessary

An Act imposing certain duties upon the directors and officers of life insurance companies, banks and trust companies chartered under the laws of this Commonwealth with respect to the resignation and election of directors and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof.

The first section of the bill was read as follows and agreed to:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That hereafter whenever any director of a life insurance company bank or trust company chartered under the laws of this Commonwealth shall desire to resign from such office he shall in the manner hereinafter provided give notice to the general public of such intention and also to the stockholders of said company

The second section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 2 It shall be the duty of the said director to notify the secretary of said company of his intention to resign and the said secretary shall thereupon cause to be published in a newspaper of daily circulation in said county wherein the said company has its principal place of business a notice setting forth the name of the company the name of the director and of his proposed intention to resign and the date when said resignation shall become effective If the total number of directors resigning at any one time shall amount to one-third of the total membership of the board of directors the secretary shall in addition to such published notice send a notice to each stockholder of said company at his last known address setting forth that the said directors have signified their intention to resign and that their resignation shall become effective on a certain date No resignation shall become effective until at least thirty days shall have intervened between the date of said publication and notice when necessary to stockholders as aforesaid

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. McKEE. Mr. President, I move to amend Section 2, page 2, line 16, by adding at the end thereof the following: "The said director shall also, in addition to the foregoing notices, if a director of a life insurance company, send written notice by registered letter of his intention to resign to the State Insurance Commissioner; and if a director of a bank or trust company, to the State Banking Commissioner."

Mr. WHITTEN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The third section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 3 Whenever a majority of the board of directors of any of the said companies shall signify their intention of resigning so that the control of said company shall pass to other directors it shall be the duty of the secretary of the company to notify the stockholders to this effect and also to call a special meeting of the stockholders of said company and the stockholders at said special meeting shall proceed with the matter of electing directors so as to complete the membership of the board It shall not be within the power of a board of directors of any of said companies to elect a majority of the board of directors as their successors and whenever changes in directors shall be equal to a majority of said board since the last annual election it shall be the duty of the secretary to call a meeting of the stockholders as hereinbefore provided who shall proceed with the matter of electing directors to fill the vacancies arising since the last annual election If the next regular meeting of the stockholders shall come within thirty days after notice of the intention to resign then the matter shall be held over until said meeting

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. McKEE. Mr. President, I move to amend Section 3, page 3, line 9, by adding at the end thereof, the following: "Before the new board of directors shall assume control of the affairs of the company, the secretary of the company shall, in case the company is a life insurance company, notify the State Insurance Commissioner, and, in case the company is a bank or trust company, notify the State Banking Commissioner of the fact that there has been a change in a majority of the board of directors either by resignation and a special election, or at the annual election and shall furnish the names of the new directors and such other information as may be required by the State Insurance Commissioner, or the State Banking Commissioner, respectively, and the said new board of directors shall not take control of the affairs of the company until the changes in the board of directors shall have been approved by the State Insurance Commissioner, or State Banking Commissioner, respectively, and until the secretary shall certify upon the minutes of the company the approval of the State Insurance Commissioner or State Banking Commissioner, respectively.

Mr. WHITTEN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The fourth, fifth and sixth sections of the bill were read as follows and agreed to:

Whereas Statements have been made by reputable citizens and the public press to the effect that discrimination exists in the Department of Mines in arbitrarily refusnig certificates for mine foremen and assistant mine foremen without any authority in law to withhold same from applicants who have been recommended for certificates by the duly constituted examining board of this Commonwealth and

Whereas Such arbitrary method of refusing certificates to worthy applicants who have been recommended by the proper boards for such certificates is un-American unjust and a disgrace to the fair name of this Commonwealth and tends to demoralize departments in the administration of State affairs within this State and

Whereas The above-named charges and allegations concerning the conduct of public business by its recognized officials have so aroused public sentiment concerning the administration of the affairs of the Department of Mines of this Commonwealth as to demand a full free unobstructed comprehensive and impartial investigation of the means and methods employed by the chief of said department in his granting and refusing to grant mine foremen and assistant mine foremen certificates now therefore be it

Resolved By the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met that a joint committee consisting of three (3) members of the Senate one of whom shall be of a minority political party to be appointed by the president pro tempore of the Senate and four (4) members of the House of Representatives one of whom shall be of a minority political party to be appointed by the Speaker of the House be created for the purpose of making a full free and impartial investigation of the manner in which certificates to mine foremen and assistant mine foremen are being granted and withheld by the chief of the Department of Mines of this Commonwealth and be it further

Resolved That the said joint committee is hereby directed to organize after the approval of this joint resolution by the Governor to hold such and as many hearings as it may deem necessary to summon witnesses to further the purpose of this investigation to issue subpoenas administer oaths and compel the attendance of such witnesses and the production of all such books papers and arguments and every other form of written or documentary evidence as may be pertinent or germane to the inquiry and be it further

Resolved That the said joint committee after a full and fair investigation make a full report of their findings to the General Assembly without delay and furnish a copy of said report to the Governor of this Commonwealth and in said report that it inform the General Assembly and the Governor fully upon the methods employed by the chief of the Department of Mines in issuing or refusing to issue mine foremen and assistant mine foremen certificates and set forth the names of all applicants for such papers who been discriminated against and be it further

Resolved That the sum of two thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to defray the expenses necessarily incurred by said joint committee in the discharge of duties imposed upon it and that payment shall be made on order of the chairman of such joint committee and on warrant of the Auditor General in the manner now prescribed by law

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1202, as follows:

A Supplement to an act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" be supplemented by adding thereto the following

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. S. G. Zerfass, offered the following prayer:

Kind Father in Heaven, in all things we have come short, and we ask Thy mercy and Thy pardon. Make Thy face to shine upon us and give us peace. Enable us to make this a very worthy and beautiful day, and give us Thy true spirit toward all men. Preserve us from envy, jealousy and from all bitterness, so that we may be useful, quieting others' fears, soothing others' pains, and comforting their sorrows. May we endure trouble and sorrow sweetly and calmly, and be lifted nearer to Thee in spirit, ennobling us all our lives. Give us Thy spirit.

"Our times are in His hand
Who saith 'A whole life is planned,
Youth shows but half,
Trust God, see all, nor be afraid.'"

Breathe upon us and save us. Amen.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McVicar permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, on page 2 and page 3 of this bill there is added an Article V, or what was "V" of section 2 and at line 28 there is a provision there that "upon the petition of a majority of abutting property owners of the section affected to provide for the ornamental illumination of any section of the borough and to collect the cost of the installation and maintenance of such illumination from the owners of property fronting the streets upon which the same is installed by the foot front rule." I would like to ask if that is the right thing to do, to cause the property owners to pay for this illumination when the entire town or community would be affected by it?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Clearfield I would say this: This bill as a whole was authorized by the Pennsylvania League of Boroughs at its meeting in February last. It is amendments to the Borough Code passed in the year of 1915. Along with the Borough Code there were some seven or eight separate bills passed at the same session and the provision that you are referring to, I understand was in a separate bill which was passed in 1915 and which they thought should be incorporated into the Borough Code as to put all the laws in the one act.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McVicar.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McVicar, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, on page 5 there is a new article under Section 6, lines 6 to 8: "to file and collect municipal claims for water rents, lighting rates and sewer rates in the manner now provided by law." I would like to ask the gentleman if there is any law on the statute books that provides for the collection of water rents? I was under the impression that water companies instead of collecting in the usual manner shut off the water instead of having a provision to collect the water rents.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, in answer to this inquiry, I yield to the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Walter, who had this amendment inserted in it and he can no doubt explain it better than I.

Mr. WALTER. I desire to inform the gentleman from Clearfield that it is the belief of a great many lawyers that boroughs have the right, under existing laws, to file, liens for water rates and sewer rates and lighting rates. There is some doubt about it. This would only permit municipally owned plants to file claims against property for that. The privilege is now enjoyed by cities of the first, second and third classes, and it is to make the law uniform with respect to municipally owned plants that this amendment was inserted. Our own court has held that existing laws are sufficient, but that case had been appealed to the superior court and inasmuch as there seems to be some doubt about it this amendment was suggested to the framers of the borough code.

Mr. PHILLIPS. It does not affect private water companies?

Mr. WALTER. No, not at all.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

TIME EXTENDED ON BILLS.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the Chair will extend the time on all bills on the postponed calendar for a period of five days. Are there any objections? There do not appear to be any, therefore, bills on postponed calendar are extended for a period of five days.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. MILNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page 20 of to-day's Calendar, Bills on Final Passage Postponed, House Bill No. 1130, File Folio, 5325.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire to amend or proceed to passage?

Mr. MILNER. Mr. Speaker, to proceed to passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1130, entitled

An Act to amend section forty-five of the act approved the nineteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen entitled "An Act relating to the sale of goods"

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I would like the sponsor of this bill to explain it.

The SPEAKER. Will the sponsor of this bill, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Milner, explain it?

Mr. MILNER. Mr. Speaker, this bill simply provides in the case of a contract to sell goods to be paid for by stated installments, which are to be separately paid, in the event of the seller not making the proper delivery, or if the buyer does not pay for the deliveries when he says he will pay for them, that the injured party can refuse to go further and can sue at once for breach of contract. This clarifies the law of sales. It is the practical view of judicial authority throughout the United States and England and is the provision of the law which is advocated by the leading textbook writers on the law. It simplifies the thing; it is common sense; it is advocated by Francis Burdick who has written a textbook on the Law of Sales and it is taken word for word from his textbook.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1583, entitled

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the twenty-ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred nine entitled "An Act to prevent any individual from holding at the same time, more than one of the offices of president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, or solicitor of any building and loan association, incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth, and providing a penalty for the breach thereof;" by prohibiting any individual from holding at the time also the office of conveyancer.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments to this bill at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend title by striking out in the last two lines thereof the following: "any individual from holding at the same time also the office of conveyancer," and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "the president, vice president, secretary or treasurer from holding the office of conveyancer."

Amend section 1, page 2, line 22, by striking out the word "conveyancer".

Amend section 1, page 2, by adding at the end of line 23, after the word "Commonwealth" the following: "nor shall any president, vice president, secretary or treasurer be at the same time the holder of the office of conveyancer of any such association."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 611, entitled

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the twenty-second day of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five entitled "An Act authorizing the county commissioners of the several counties in this Commonwealth to appoint a county solicitor, fix his compensation and prescribe the term and duties of the solicitor," authorizing the appointment of assistant county solicitors.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1691, entitled

An Act providing for the appointment by the Governor of police for certain public service corporations and prescribing the powers; providing for the compensation and for the revocation of the powers of such police.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, it seems to me this bill that is before us now is rather a dangerous proposition. The bill provides that certain interests by applying to the Governor may be privileged to have their employes cloaked with the power of policemen. It is simply an extension of the coal and iron police law. In other words, at the present time the sheriff of the county is empowered to deputize citizens to serve the county during the period when extra protection is necessary. This bill, if it passes, will over-right the sheriff and give any corporation, at any time, the right to go to the Governor over the sheriff's head and get what the sheriff perhaps refused to give. In other words, if the sheriff sees fit for any reason not to grant this extra police protection or police power, the corporation, or corporations, may, if they see fit, go to the Governor and get, perhaps if the Governor sees fit, what the sheriff refused to give. I feel that that would be a dangerous precedent to establish. The bill further provides that these policemen shall be paid by the corporation who hires them. In its final analysis, the bill means this: Extending the State police power and putting them under the jurisdiction of the private corporations. I feel that the State, or the constituted State authorities, should at all times have full control of the police power of the State; and we should not delegate this power to any private corporation. It has been stated on the floor here that great damage was done at Homestead by private detectives. The Pinkerton Detective Force at that time brought about great destruction of life and property at Homestead, and great damage was done at Latimer and so on. We have been trying to get away from the private owned and controlled police force, and we have been making some headway along that line. This bill would throw us back to where we were many years ago.

Now, I do not propose to say any more about it. I believe you will all agree with me that the police powers should be controlled by the Commonwealth and not by a private corporation. If you feel that way, you will have to vote against this bill. If you feel, on the other hand, that any private corporation should have the right to have police of their own, to take orders from the corporation, and the actions of those police be defended by the Commonwealth, then, of course, you will have to vote for the bill. I feel that it would be a mistake to pass this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1657, entitled

An Act directing the manner in which the Highway Department shall distribute between the several counties the moneys appropriated for State and State-aid roads.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of the bill explain it.

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill simply provides for the distribution of the State highway money in proportion to the number of miles of State highway taken over in each county. It is simply a fair deal for each county, giving them their pro rata share of the money according to the number of miles of State highway taken over and also the number of miles of State-aid road in each county.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE (RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR).

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1117, entitled

An Act providing that appointive officers and employes employed by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in its civil service or by any department bureau commission or office thereof or by any county municipality township or school district shall not be deemed or held to have resigned or abandoned their offices or employments by reason of enlistment enrollment or draft in the military or naval service of the United States or any branch or unit thereof in time of war or contemplated war prohibiting the removal from their offices or employments of such officers and employes during the period of their service in the army or navy directing that one-half of the salaries or wages of such officers or employes as have dependent wives children or parents and not exceeding two thousand dollars per annum be paid during the term of their service in the army or navy to such dependents authorizing the employment during said term of substitutes to perform the duties theretofore performed by such officers or employes respectively and providing for the compensation of such substitutes

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever any appointiv officer or employe regularly employed by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in its civil service or by any department bureau commission or office thereof or by any count municipality township or school district within the Commonwealth shall in time of war or contemplated war enlist enroll or be drafted in the military or naval service of the United States or any branch or unit thereof he shall not be deemed or held to have thereby resigned from or abandoned his said office or enrollment nor shall he be removable therefrom during the period of his service but the duties of his said office or employment shall if there is no other person authorized by law to perform the powers and duties of such officer or employe during said period be performed by a substitute who shall be appointed by the same authority who appointed such officer or employe if such authority shall deem the employment of such substitute necessary Such substitute shall receive so much of the salary or wages attached to said office or employment as shall not be paid to the dependent or dependents of said office or employe as hereinafter provided and such substitute may receive such further compensation from appropriations made for that purpose or otherwise as may be required when added to the amount received under the provisions of this act to constitute a reasonable compensation for his services in the opinion of the authority appointing him

Section 2 Any said officer or employe so enlisting enrolling or drafted and having a dependent or dependents as aforesaid may at the time of his enlistment enrollment or draft or immediately thereafter file with the head or cheif of the department bureau commission or office in which he is employed a statement in writing executed under oath setting forth the fact and date of his enlistment enrollment or draft his intention to retain his said office or employment and to resume the duties thereof after the expiration of his service in the military or naval service or any branch or unit thereof and the names and addresses of his wife children and dependent parent or parents if any such he have and requesting and directing that one-half of the salary or wages of his said office or employment not exceeding two thousand ($2,000.00) dollars per annum shall be paid during his service in the military or naval service or any branch or unit thereof as follows If he have a wife to his wife for her use and that of his children if he have children and no wife then to such person as he may designate for the use and benefit of his children If he have a dependent parent or parents then he shall direct such sum as he has theretofore been accustomed to contribute to their support to be paid to them and the amount payable to his wife or children if any he have shall be proportionately decreased If he have no wife or children he may direct the entire one-half of his said salary or wages not exceeding two thousand ($2,000.00) dollars per annum to be paid to his dependent parent or parents if any such he have all sums so directed to be paid shall be paid to the person designated in the same proportional installments as nearly as may be as the salary or wages of such person were thereto fore paid to him With such statement he shall also file powers of attorney authorizing the proper dependents to receive their proportion of said salary or wages as aforesaid

Section 3 The statement required to be filed by section two of this act shall be prima facie evidence of the dependency of any person named as a dependent in said statement but the head of any department bureau commission or office may in case of doubt satisfy himself as to the fact of such dependency and if the person so nominated as a dependent was not in fact dependent upon the officer or employe enlisting enrolling or drafted in the military or naval service or any branch or unit thereof at the time of his enlistment enrollment or draft shall refuse to make any payment to such person on account of the salary or wages of such officer or employe Such head of a department bureau commission or office shall also satisfy himself before making payments to dependents under the provisions of this act that the officer or employe was alive during the period for which any payment is made No payment shall be made under the provisions of this act to any officer or employe enlisting enrolling or drafted as aforesaid and so much of the salary or wages of such officer or employe as is not paid under the provisions of this act to his dependents and his substitute shall be recovered back into the fund from which said salary or wages is paid

MR. BALDRIGE IN THE CHAIR.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 695, entitled

An Act providing that any county borough or township bridge crossed by any State route State highway or State-aid highway shall become a part of said State route State highway or State-aid highway and shall be constructed or reconstructed and repaired and maintained as such.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I think it is well for us to consider carefully the meaning and the weight this measure will have if it becomes a law. I do not know of any measure that receives greater interest from the members of this House and the State of Pennsylvania than the road question. We are all anxious to have better roads, better improvements generally. Here is a measure that provides that all township, borough and county bridges along the route of the State highways be taken over by the State Highway Department. Now, if you are in favor of a public highway, of good roads, you cannot afford to be in favor of this bill. If you want to use the State Highway fund in taking over township, county and borough bridges and maintain and support them then you must do without the State roads for the reason that the greater amount of the money appropriated in this State for building public highways will have to be used and consumed in these bridges. We have had no burden in our county, township or borough by reason of a bridge or bridges. We have built them and we have repaired them and maintained and supported them without complaint. What we want is more miles of road. Now, gentlemen, don't throw the money away from the public highways because public highways mean good roads and in order to have the State help us to build them we must protect the fund that is set aside for that purpose and prevent it from going in another course.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this act is, as has been said by the gentleman from Cambria County, that all bridges owned by townships, counties and boroughs which are crossed by State Highways, state routes or routes maintained by the State shall become part of such highway. Why should not they be? How can you preserve uniformity in the construction of a road if it is not done under one system.

Now the gentleman from Cambria says that the funds that are set aside for State highway purposes will be eaten up by the State taking over these bridges. How are these counties to build roads if they have to go and put their money in bridges? This will relieve the burden in the county and it will not eat up the Highway fund. You may think on first view that it is taking money away from the State roads. If the counties and townships have to build their bridges they will not have money to put in the roads. I do not know how it is in the county that the gentleman comes from, but I know in other counties in western Pennsylvania because of the fact that they have to expend all their money in building bridges and have built them up and kept them in good condition, the county has reached its constitutional limitation as far as it is permitted for road-building purposes. It all goes back to the same place. The fact that the State has been imposing upon the counties and townships the cost of maintaining and repairing these bridges has simply robbed the counties and townships. It will simply go back the same way. When you come back to consider it all very carefully it all balances up. Then you have a uniform road, built under a uniform system. I know in some counties the State has repaired roads, built brick roads and macadamized roads and you will have a joint county bridge and you will not have a bridge commensurate with the road; that is, it won't carry the loads that you can haul over these improved roads. In addition to that we will have a State road built and you will come up where there is a joint bridge to be erected and maintained by the counties and it will be years before you can get these two counties to come together and build a bridge that will carry the traffic that prevails over these State roads. I know in one instance of thre or four routes or roads were built to a point and you had to use a ferry. This is not robbing the State. It will even up all along the line. The State will have charge of it and you will have a uniform system and it will be cheaper. The State will build the roads under its own supervision. They will buy greater amounts of material and they have the engineers and equipment in every district where the counties and townships have not and they can take hold of these bridges and have them in a uniform shape with the roads.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this seems to me to be a very fair and reasonable proposition. I can see no reason why the State should control a certain amount of the highways, known as the State highways, and not take care of the bridges. The bridge is a part of the highway and there is no good reason, to my mind, why the State should not take care of these bridges. Now, we all know that many of the townships are already heavily burdened by taxation and I believe that the State will be better able to take care of this proposition than will the townships by local taxation. Sometime ago I felt sort of timid about the proposition and I thought there might be trouble in getting a bill through the House so I did introduce a bill on a 50-50 proposition; that is, half to be paid by the State and half by the county; but this seems to me even a much better proposition than the one I introduced and I see no reason why this bill should not pass and why the rural authorities should not be relieved of the burdens which are now bearing down upon them.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 1657.

Mr. LAULER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1657, File Folio 5047, entitled

An Act directing the manner in which the Highway Department shall distribute between the several counties the money appropriated for state and state-aid roads was defeated on final passage to-day be reconsidered.

Mr. HOLLERN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1676, as follows:

An Act for the safety of the public by prohibiting except in certain cases the use for the purpose of hunting and the discharge at dead marks or targets or otherwise of high power rifles of any calibre or any rifle of more than twenty-two calibre and providing penalties

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That it shall be unlawful for any person to use any high power rifle of any calibre or any rifle discharging a bullet greate rthan twenty-two calibre for the purpose of hunting killing or shooting at any game except bear deer elk or moose

Section 2 It shall be unlawful for any person while hunting or otherwise in the open country to discharge any high power rifle of any calibre or any rifle of more than twenty-two calibre at any dead mark or target or otherwise except for the purpose of shooting at any bear deer elk or moose

Section 3 This act does not prevent the use or discharging of high power rifles or rifles of more than twenty-two calibre for legitimate target practice where the same may be done with safety to the public

Section 4 Any person who shall violate the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars for each such offense and in default of the payment of such fine to be imprisoned one day for each dollar of fine imposed

Section 5 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor explain this bill and what necessity there is for it.

Mr. MERVINE. Mr. Speaker, this bill is to stop the unnecessary shooting in the country with rifles that are larger that a .32 calibre and also prohibits usinfi a .22 high power rifle for unnecessary shooting. Nearly every man that goes into the forest hunting after he gets through looking for big game and is going home he will shoot at a woodpecker or a blue jay or a mark, and in shooting at that they will not take any consideration of what might be on the other side of the object or the mark where the ball is apt to go. We have rifles to-day, high power rifles, that shoot from two to three miles, and I suppose there are many members of this House who know that. This bill is intended not only for the protection of the men who are hunting in the woods, but it is intended to protect the man who is performing any duties in the forests, or on the farm adjoining a hunting ground; it will protect the housewives in doing their duties around the house that might be within range, in the rural districts, and the children on the playgrounds, or as they go to school or home from school; it will protect the public; it will protect the public highways; it will protect any man driving a team, or if he be in an automobile, and it will also protect the public while traveling in the trains. I have heard, in my time, of many a man or person being shot by a stray ball and on one knew where it came from, and for this reason, for the protection of people, this bill has been introduced, and I hope every member will support it.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I wish to interrogate the gentleman from Monroe.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Mervine, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MERVINE. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, do I understand by the terms of this bill, if it becomes a law, it will discard the old style of shooting match?

Mr. MERVINE. Mr. Speaker, No, sir; it does not interfere with any legitimate shooting.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Does it not reduce the calibre to .22?

Mr. MERVINE. It permits the shooting with a .22 calibre with anything except a high power rifle and will not interfere with legitimate target practice.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. This will would not permit shooting matches; the old style shooting matches.

Mr. MERVINE. This bill does not prohibit any shooting matches.

Mr. ALBEE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Monroe.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Mervine, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MERVINE. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. ALBEE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman what he means by the term "legitimate target practice?"

Mr. MERVINE. That means legitimate shooting of any kind; any shooting that is legal.

Mr. ALBEE. I don't know of any illegal shooting unless it is shooting out of season.

Mr. MERVINE. If you stand on the outside of a building here and shoot over this town, that would be illegal shooting.

Mr. ALBEE. We have laws to cover that.

Mr. MERVINE. Mr. Speaker, certainly.

the country, that I know of.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Mervine, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MERVINE. Mr. Speaker, certainly.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman, under the terms of this bill, if it becomes a law, can a man shoot a wildcat or a panther or anything of that description, that may try to take human life?

Mr. MERVINE. I don't think there is any law that will prohibit a man from defending himself in any way, to save his life. A man with any rifle has a right to defend himself.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1470, as follows:

An Act to provide for the distribution of penalties collected for violations of the Fish and Game Laws of this Commonwealth

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That from and after the approval of this act any citizen of this Commonwealth other than a salaried officer of the Commonwealth who may prosecute any person or persons for violating any law of this Commonwealth relating to either fish or game or wild birds shall be entitled to receive as remuneration for services rendered in such prosecution one-half of the penalty that may be recovered in such case together with costs which amount shall be paid to such prosecutor by the court receiving the same and the remaining one-half shall be returned to the head of that department having to do with the law violated who shall in turn deposit such moneys in manner and for the purposes now indicated by law relating to the application of penalties recovered by that department

Section 2 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of this bill explain the provisions of it.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, the only thing this bill does other than the law as it now stands is that it puts a constable on the same status that any ordinary citizen is at the present time. At the present time if you see a man violating the Game or Fish Law and you make that information, the laws gives you one-half of the fines for giving that information. But as the law stands to-day the constable giving the information cannot get any renumeration whatsoever. The result is that the Game Commissioner and the Fish Commissioner both have trouble to get a constable to make a return for a violation, even though he knows a violation has been committed. It is but a short time since Mr. Kalbfus told me that he had asked a constable to go and make information against a man that was known to be a violator of the law, and the constable said, "I will not, because there is no way by which I can get my expenses out of it." So the only object of the bill, the only change the bill makes in the present law, is that it puts a constable on the same status as any other citizen, should he make a return.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Huntingdon, Mr. Dell, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentlemen whether he does not think this bill puts a premium on perjury?

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, I do not as the law stands to-day. If my good friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Wobensmith, sees me violating the law and he makes information, he will get half the fine. It not infrequently occurs that two men that are out in the woods and one of them shoots a deer by mistake, shoots a doe, immediately one of the men goes and makes a report on the other and thereby saves $50.00, and the fine is only $50.00 instead of $100.00.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Huntingdon, Mr. Dell, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, gladly.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman think it is good public policy to have public officers make money out of criimnal proceedings? Does the gentleman think that is in accordance with good public policy?

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, I do not know hardly how to answer the gentleman. I do not think it is good policy when a man is violating the law to have an officer of the law so tied up that he cannot prohibit that violation.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, that does not answer my question, and I insist on an answer to my question. I would like to have the gentleman from Huntingdon state whether or not he thinks it is good public policy to have an officer make money out of a criminal proceeding such as this would be?

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, personally, in a general way, I do not.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, is there any reason why a public officer should not discharge his duty in a criminal proceeding?

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, but in a case of this kind, the public officer that I name in this bill has no authority as a public officer and it simply puts him on the basis of a citizen who is not an officer.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Huntingdon if it is not the duty of every public officer to see that the laws are not violated?

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, I believe it is, sir, if it were—

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, then the gentleman's former answer must clearly be wrong, is it not?

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, I do not understand.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman's answer to my former question must necessarily be wrong.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, I do not think so sir.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1711, as follows

An Act for the protection of owners and tenants of cultivated lands from damage by deer and permitting the killing of such deer and the use of the carcass thereof under certain restrictions

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the owner or tenant of any cultivated lands or any employe of such owner or tenant under his direction after permit obtained as hereinafter provided is hereby authorized to kill any deer found doing injury to such lands or property and also when any damage has been done to any such lands or property by any deer even though the owner or tenant did not see the deer committing such damage to follow and kill any deer found within one mile of the place where such damage happened

Section 2 No deer shall be killed under the provisions of this act unless a complaint has first been filed with the Game Commission setting forth the facts that damage has been committed by any deer and praying for a permit to kill such deer Upon the receipt of any such complaint the Secretary of the Game Commission shall make an investigation thereof and if he finds the facts alleged to be true he shall issue his permit authorizing the killing of such deer as provided in section one of this act

Section 3 The carcass of any deer killed under the provisions hereof may be used by the owner or tenant of such lands for domestic use but no part thereof shall be sold and any person who shall sell the carcass or any part thereof of any such deer shall be subject to a penalty of twenty-five dollars to be recovered in a summary proceeding

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, a bill covering this matter has been added to the Game Code in the Senate, with this exception, that when deer are killed out of season as this provides for, and as that section of the game code provides for, the owner shall not be permitted to eat the meat thereof, but it becomes the property of the hospital. Under this provision, a man or a body of men who have twelve or fifteen hundred acres in seed, and he will plant five or six apple trees, he can kill deer twelve months out of the year. This is a bad measure.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1663, entitled

An Act permitting the owners or lessees of land or members of their family to take or kill birds commonly known as black birds on the premises owned or leased by them or upon or over a roadway immediately adjoining and abutting on said property at any time during the year and repealing all acts inconsistent herewith.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, page 1, line 8, by striking out the word "or" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "on."

Amend section 3, page 2, line 8, by inserting the word "the" before the word "kill."

Amend section 3, page 2, by striking out the quotation marks after "Pennsylvania" in line 9 and inserting quotation marks after "provisions" in line 10.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordace with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1550 (Senate Bill No. 640), as follows

An Act to amend sections three four five six and eleven of an act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen entitled "An Act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities and all county or other public employes if any paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof and out of the treasury of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section three of an act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred sixty-six) entitled "An Act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities and all county or other public employes if any paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof and out of the treasury of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" which reads as follows

"Section 3 Every person now or hereafter employed by the said cities or paid out of the city treasury thereof as hereinabove provided if any of the age of sixty years and upwards who shall have been so employed for a period of twenty years or more shall upon application to the board of pensions herein created be retired from service and shall during the remainder of his or her life receive a pension or compensation fixed by this act subject to such qualifications as are herein contained" be amended to read as follows

Section 3 Every person now or hereafter employed by the said cities or paid out of the city treasury thereof as hereinabove provided if any of the age of sixty years and upwards who shall have been so employed for a period of twenty years or more shall upon application to the board of pensions herein created be retired from service and shall during the remainder of his or her life receive a pension or compensation fixed by this act subject to such qualifications as are herein contained Provided That if any person or persons had been employed by the said cities for a period covering eighteen years or more prior to the passage of this act and shall thereafter be re-employed it shall be necessary that the period of their re-employment shall extend over a period of two years or more before such person or persons shall be entitled to receive the pension fixed by this act

Section 2 That section four of said act which reads as follows

"Section 4 During the lifetime of the said person he or she shall be entitled to receive as a pension annually from the fund set aside for the purpose fifty per centum of the amount which would constitute the average annual salary or wages which he or she received during the last five years of his or her employment by the said city or other public employment as aforesaid Said pension to be paid in monthly payments Should any person so employed after twenty years of service be dismissed voluntarily retire or be in any manner deprived of his position or employment before attaining the age of sixty years upon continuing a monthly payment to the fund equal to the last amount due and paid monthly while in active service said person shall be entitled to the pension above mentioned notwithstanding he or she has not attained the age of sixty years at the time of his or her separation from the public service but said pension shall not commence until he or she has attained the age of sixty years Should any employe however become totally and permanently disabled after twenty years of service and before attaining the age of sixty years he or she shall be entitled to the said pension Proof of total and permanent disability shall consist of the sworn statement of three practicing physicians designated by the board that the employe is in a permanent condition of health which would totally disable him or her from performing the duties of his or her position or office The pension paid to any one employe shall not exceed one hundred dollars per month" be amended to read as follows

Section 4 During the lifetime of the said person he or she shall be entitled to receive a pension from the fund set aside for the purpose of fifty per centum of the amount which would constitutie the average rate of pay at which he or she was employed during the last five years of his or her employment by the said city or other public employment as aforesaid Said pension shall be paid in monthly payments Provided That if any pension be granted to a person who has not been a contributor to the pension fund as herein provided during a period of twenty years such person shall be requried to pay unto the board of pensions monthly an amount equal to four per centum of his or her pension until such time as his or her contribution shall have extended during a period of twenty years Should any person so employed after twenty years of service be dismissed voluntarily retire or be in any manner deprived of his position or employment before attaining the age of sixty years upon continuing a monthly payment to the fund equal to the last amount due and paid monthly while in active service said person shall be entitled to a pension above mentioned notwithstanding he or she has not attained the age of sixty years at the time of his or her separation from the public service but said pension shall not commence until he or she has attained the age of sixty years. Should any employe however become totally and permanently disabled after twenty years of service and before attaining the age of sixty years he or she shall be entitled to the said pension Proof of total and permanent disability shall consist of the sworn statement of three practicing physicians designated by the board that the employe is in a permanent condition of health which would totally disable him or her from performing the duties of his or her position or office The pension paid to any one employe shall not exceed one hundred dollars per month

Section 3 That section five of said act which reads as follows

"Section 5 The city county or other public employes if any herein mentioned shall after the passage of this act pay unto the board of pensions monthly an amount equal to two per centum of their monthly salaries or wages—in no event however paying at a rate greater than four dollars a month—which shall be applied to the purposes of this act Payment of the monthly amount or contribution herein mentioned shall cease and be discontinued at the time the beneficiary receives the pension herein provided If for any cause an employe contributing to the pension fund shall cease to be an employe of any such cities of the first class or other county or public employes paid out of the treasury of such cities before said employe becomes entitled to the pension conferred by this act the total amount of the contributions paid into the pension fund by such employe shall be refunded to him in full without interest Provided however if any such employe shall have returned to him or her the amount contributed as aforesaid and shall afterward re-enter such public employment said employe shall not be entitled to the pension designated until twenty years after the said re-employment unless he or she shall return to the pension fund the amount withdrawn in which event the period of twenty years shall be computed from the time said employe first entered the such public service In the event of the death of any employe before the said employe becomes entitled to the pension aforesaid the said total amount of contributions aforesaid shall be paid over to the estate of said deceased employes" be amended to read as follows

Section 5 The city county or other public employes if any herein mentioned shall after the passage of this act pay unto the board of pensions monthly an amount equal to four per centum of their monthly salaries or wages—in no event however paying at a rate greater than four dollars a month—which shall be applied to the purposes of this act Payment of the monthly amount or contribution herein mentioned shall cease and be discontinued at the time the beneficiary receives the pension herein provided if such beneficiary has so contributed to the pension fund during a period of twenty years If at the time the beneficiary receives the pension herein provided he or she shall not have been a contributor to the pension fund during a period of twenty years such person shall be required to pay unto the board of pensions an amount equal to two per centum of his or her monthly pension until such time as his or her contribution shall have extended during a period of twenty years If for any cause an employe contributing to the pension fund shall cease to be an employe of any such cities of the first class or other county or public employes paid out of the treasury of such cities before said employe becomes entitled to the pension conferred by this act the total amount of the contributions paid into the pension fund by such employe shall be refunded to him in full without interest Provided however if any such employe shall have returned to him or her the amount contributed as aforesaid and shall afterward re-enter such public employment said employe shall not be entitled to the pension designated until twenty years after the said re-employment unless he or she shall return to the pension fund the amount withdrawn in which event the period of twenty years shall be computed from the time said employe first entered the such public service In the event of the death of any employe before the said employe becomes entitled to the pension aforesaid the said total amount of contributions aforesaid shall be paid over to the estate of said deceased employe

Section 4 That section six of said act which reads as follows

"Section 6 Should any person holding position in said cities of the first class or any county or other public employes if any paid out of the treasury of such cities as aforesaid be paid a per diem wage he or she shall not be compelled to pay or contribute toward the pension fund herein provided for but shall have the option or choice of so doing and in that event only becoming entitled to the pension provided by this act" be amended to read as follows

Section 6 Should any person holding position in said cities of the first class or any county or other public employes if any paid out of the treasury of such cities as aforesaid be paid a per diem wage or a salary at a rate of three hundred and sixty dollars each year or less he or she shall not be compelled to pay or contribute toward the pension fund herein provided for but shall have the option or choice of so doing and in that event only becoming entitled to the pension provided by this act

Section 5 That section eleven of said act which reads as follows

"Section 11 The time of service herein specified namely twenty years shall be computed from the time of the first or original employment said employment to consist of service either to such cities or to the county or other public service paid out of the city treasury or both as aforesaid and need not be continuous No pensions shall be paid under the provisions of this act however until after January first one thousand nine hundred and seventeen" be amended to read as follows

Section 11 The time of service herein specified namely twenty years shall be computed from the time of the first or original employment said employment to consist of service either to such cities or to the county or other public service paid out of the city treasury or both as aforesaid and need not be continuous Provided That in no case shall a period of more than eighteen years be credited to the service record of any person or persons who shall be employed after the passage of this act and who shall have been employed by the said cities prior to the passage of this act No pensions shall be paid under the provisions of this act however until after January first one thousand nine hundred and seventeen

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

NAYS—1.

Benchoff,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1666 (Senate Bill No. 161), entitled

An Act relative to the payment of deposits in banks or trust companies deposited in two or more names.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, if there is any person in the House that is sponsoring this bill, I would like to have some explanation of it. It seems to me to be a hard and fast rule against the depositor, and there certainly ought to be some explanation given before a bill of this kind is passed. It is a hard and fast rule against the depositors and protects the banks to an extent which ought not to be permitted. In the absence of some explanation, I move that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. HECHT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1432 (Senate Bill No. 615), entitled

An Act to amend sections four and five of an act approved the second day of April one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight entitled "An Act to ascertain and appoint the fees to be received by the several officers of this Commonwealth."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this is a Senate bill, and I would like to ask if there is any member of this body able to state its provisions and indicate the changes it makes in the existing law.

Mr. STRAUSS. Mr. Speaker, this bill makes very few changes. It corrects the inequality in the present law. As you see, it is an amendment to the Act of 1868, and it brings it up to date. Some cases at that time were more numerous that are not so numerous now, and some charges are becoming more numerous, and thus things are equalized. As I said, this bill makes few changes.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, the counties of this State have operated under the fee bill of 1868 satisfactorily for a long time. There is no difficulty in any county in this State in filling the office of Clerk of the Quarter Sessions Court, and the emoluments and fees received by that official are amply sufficient to make a great many competent persons seek that office. I have examined the bill to a certain extent, and the increases look to me to be very considerable, and at this time when business have increased so enormously as it has in all of the counties of this State since 1868, there can be no good reason for further increasing the burden of the people in this respect. A great many of the fees in the criminal cases, the majority of them, are paid by the several counties. Now it might not be any hardship to the wealthy and prosperous County of Berks, but it would be a hardship to other counties not so populous and not so rich, and for that reason the county the size of Berks ought to be able to get along with the present fees, and I believe that the clerks in the remainder of the counties of the State could get along on the present fees, and therefore the law ought not to be changed.

Mr. OGDEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Franklin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Walter, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALTER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. OGDEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if in the fee bill of 1868 there is any provision whereby the clerk of the court of quarter sessions is paid a fee in coroner's inquests.

Mr. WALTER. I think not, Mr. Speaker, but inasmuch as the jurors and the witnesses—

Mr. OGDEN. Does not this amendment provide for that?

Mr. WALTER. I would say that it provides for that and a good many other things, but as we are going along satisfactorily as the law now stands, why there is no occasion for a change.

Mr. OGDEN. Is there any reason why the clerk of the court of quarter sessions should not be paid for that? He renders a just service.

Mr. WALTER. I will say that with respect to recording the reports of the coroners' inquest, my belief is that the law does not require, and I can say in our own county they are not reported; they are merely filed in the office.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. STRAUSS. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1199 (Senate Bill No. 253), entitled

An Act making an appropriation for the payment of judgment and costs recovered in the court of common pleas of Dauphin County in the suit of Joseph Moore James S. T. Moore Annie M. Polk Rebecca E. Legislative Journal.

Session 1917 — 122nd of the General Assembly

VOL. 4. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, MAY 24, 1917. No. 61.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THURSDAY, May 24, 1917.

The House met at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Richard J. Baldwin) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. S. G. Zerfass, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, We bow at Thy feet and invoke Heaven's richest benediction upon us all. We thank Thee for the comforts that come to us from the gospel, for the words of divine promise which whisper themselves into our hearts. Buoy us with the assurance of the sympathy of Christ who wept with His friends in their sad hour. Inspire us with a desire for more confidence in Thy all pervading providence, so that trusting in God becomes the very cornerstone of human happiness and gives us a vision of a blissful eternity. Make us happier, sweeter, nobler as Thy humble servants. Grant all and save us. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Mr. Weimer, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

An Act providing for the payment to the employes of the State Departments who as members of the National Guard of Pennsylvania served on the Mexican border the difference between the amount they received in such service and the amount they would have received as employes of such departments and making an appropriation therefor
Whereas The members of the organized militia of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania styled the National Guard of Pennsylvania were called into service on or about July first one thousand nine hundred and sixteen and were subsequently mustered into the service of the United States and served on the Mexican Border during which period of service each received pay from the National Guard of Pennsylvania or the United States Government according to his rank in the service and
Whereas The compensation for such service was in most cases considerably less than that which they would have received had they been permitted to remain at their accustomed occupations and
Whereas The policy of the employer of the men called at that time to the service of the Commonwealth and Federal Government has been to protect such men from financial loss which otherwise would have been experienced by them and
Whereas Employes of the various State departments were called to service in the National Guard of Pennsylvania and mustered into the Federal service and from July one one thousand nine hundred and sixteen to date of mustering out received no salary from the State therefore
Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated for the purpose of paying to the employes of the State Departments the difference between the amount received by them while in the service of the National Guard of Pennsylvania and Federal Government and the amount of salary they would have received had they continued in their regular positions with the State Government

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to say that so far as the second reading calendar is concerned, perhaps it would be better for some member to call them up, or the Chair will pass them by. There may be some members who would not like to have their bills called under the original arrangement of the House, that the Chair would call all second reading bills. The Chair should have said that that will apply to appropriation bills. All second reading bills will have to be called up by some member.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1827, as follows:

An Act prohibiting the excavating dredging and carrying away of material from the bed of any navigable stream without obtaining a license therefor and imposing a tax thereon and providing the remedy for the collection thereof

Whereas For many years past certain persons have been dredging and carrying away from the bed of the navigable streams of the Commonwealth sand gravel and other materials without permission from the Commonwealth and without paying any consideration or compensation therefor

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the term "person" herein shall mean in the singular or plural any individual partnership association joint stock company or corporation and it shall be unlawful for any such person to engage in the business of excavating dredging and carrying away any material from the bed of any navigable stream in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania without first notifying the Auditor General thereof upon such blank or form as the Auditor General shall prepare thereof giving therein such information as the Auditor General may require and receiving from the Auditor General a license so to do which it shall be his duty to issue upon complying with the above requirements and any person so engaging shall annually at such time in the year as required by the Auditor General make report to him upon blanks prepared by said Auditor General stating the quantity and value of said materials together with such other information as the Auditor General may require and thereupon it shall be the duty of the Auditor General and State Treasurer to settle and state an account against such person assessing a tax for State purposes of two per cent. upon the gross value or sales by said person of said material which tax shall be paid and collected as other taxes due the Commonwealth and from which settlement an appeal may be taken as in other cases of settlement of taxes for State purposes as now provided by law which appeal however shall be to the court of common pleas of the county in which the chief place of business of said person is located or at the option of said person in the county where the greatest quantity of said material has been excavated and taken away

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1233 (Senate Bill No. 540), entitled

An Act for the protection of the public health by regulating the possession control receipt administering prescribing dispensing sale delivering and giving away of certain drugs and keeping records thereof by regulating the administering dispensing prescribing and delivery of certain drugs to habitual users of said drugs and regulating the treatment and cure of said habitual users of said drugs by providing for the revocation of the licenses of physicians dentists veterinarians pharmacists and registered nurses for drugs addiction and for violating the provisions of this act and otherwise fixing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That except as limited in section two of this act the word "drug" as used in this act shall be construed to include (a) opium or (b) coca leaves or (c) any compound or derivative of opium or coca leaves or (d) any substance or preparation containing opium or coca leaves or (e) any substance or preparation containing any compound or derivative of opium or coca leaves

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Campbell, yesterday informed me that he desired to offer amendments to this bill, which amendments I intend to oppose. I told him that it would not have to be called up until Monday.

I therefore move, Mr. Speaker, that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House Agree to the motion?

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, this is a Senate bill and is a very important bill, and I believe that the amendments that will be offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Campbell, will not be accepted by this House. I think we ought to go right ahead with the bill.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I believe this House should extend the courtesy to any gentleman who has made a request of this kind. This is only a delay of a little time. How do we know that the amendments will not be accepted by the House.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, if the amendments are so important I do not see why the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Campbell, is not here to offer them.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that Mr. Campbell had these amendments for about seven or eight days, and he had the opportunity to insert these amendments. He might have made a motion to have the bill recommitted to a committee for the purpose of amendment. It seems to me that having had those amendments for the last week or two that he had time to suggest the amendments and not wait until he leaves and then leave the burden upon some one else to suggest that the bill go over.

Mr. URICH. Mr. Speaker, I wish to state to the House that the amendments that Mr. Campbell is going to offer are important in this bill and I think we owe the courtesy to Mr. Campbell to wait until he is here to present the amendments.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, if Mr. Campbell had amendments to offer to this very important bill, which I consider one of the most important that has been before this Legislature, and he was interested in the bill, he should stay here, like we stay here until Thursday, and introduce the amendments.

The SPEAKER. The rules do not permit a personal discussion. Mr. Campbell, as I understand it, is not under consideration.

The question is, whether the bill shall be postponed for the present. I hope the members who speak will confine themselves to the question.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I would suggest that the House pass this bill on second reading. If the amendments are so vitally important, I am sure this House will extend the courtesy to Mr. Campbell on third reading to permit them to go in. I will say to this House that if the amendments are so important, that I personally will not object to them. I do not know what his amendments are, but I believe this bill should not go over.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would request that the members confine themselves to the question as to whether the bill should be postponed or not.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen, this is a Senate bill and it will only require a little while to pass it. It does not have to go to the Senate, and I think the bill should be postponed for the present, since it is a Senate bill. If it were a House bill it would be a different proposition. It is a Senate bill and the postponement of it to-day will not affect its passage, and will not hold it up because it can fix it up and pass it in a little while.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. HECHT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of information.

Mr. HECHT. Mr. Speaker, if this bill is postponed to-day, when will it appear again on second reading?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would state in answer to the question from the gentleman from Philadelphia, that some of the members who have had experience in the closing sessions of the House all know that during the last six days of the session nothing but Senate bills can be considered, because bills cinsidered within six days of the closing of the House naturally must fall because they will have to take three days to go through the House and three days to go through the Senate, and one day in each committee, so that you can count that eight days on the outside must be allowed for the passage of bills. The Chair, however, feels that the postponement of this bill will not injure the passage of it in the slightest.

Mr. HECHT. Mr. Speaker, my question was this: if this bill is postponed to-day on second reading, will we have a second reading calendar before next Thursday?

The SPEAKER. That is at matter entirely for the House to decide. The first second reading calendar comes on Wednesday according to the rules of the House, but we can take it up at any time.

Mr. WHITTAKER. Mr. Speaker, just for the information of the House in passing on this motion, I want to say, I have made no arrangements with Mr. Campbell to ask to have it postponed and that whatever action the House takes is satisfactory to me. The amendments which he intends, or had intended, to propose are not such amendments as would satisfy the sponsor of the bill, and which I would oppose before the House. I think they are the same amendments which the committee has considered frequently before and has rejected. I do not want to urge this motion, but as he told me that he wants to offer amendments I thought it perhaps incumbent upon me to present it to the House.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker,

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will recognize the gentleman from Chester. Mr. Whitaker. The Chair hears none.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to withdraw the motion.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I respectfully coincide with my colleague from Chester County, Mr. Whitaker, and I withdraw my second.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The second, third, fourth and fifth sections were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 2 The word "drug" shall not be construed to include (1) preparations and remedies and compounds which do not contain more than two grains of opium or more than one-fourth of a grain of morphine or more than one-eighth of a grain of heroin or more than one grain of codeine or any salt or derivative of any of them in one fluid ounce if the same is liquid or if a solid or semi-solid in one avoirdupois ounce (2) liniments ointments or other preparations prepared and dispensed in good faith for external use only providing such liniments ointments and preparation do not contain cocaine or any of its salts or alpha or beta or any of their salts or any synthetic substitute for cocaine or eucaine or their salts (3) Decocainized coca leaves leaves or preparations made therefrom or other preparation of coca leaves which do not contain cocaine

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section two of an act entitled "An Act establishing in counties containing a population of from eight hundred thousand to one million for hundred thousand a board for the assessment and revision of taxes for State and county purposes prescribing the method of their appointment their powers and duties fixing their salary to be paid by the proper county and abolishing the office of ward borough and township assessors in so far as respects the assessment of State and county taxes" approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred and ninety-two) which reads as follows

"Section 2 The said board shall divide the county into convenient districts and shall appoint one subordinate assessor for each of said districts The said subordinate assessors shall make assessments and valuations of all property taxable for State and county purposes together with a list of all persons taxable upon occupation in their respective districts and shall on or before the first Monday of November of the year preceding the next triennial assessment in such counties file the same with the said Board for the Assessment and Revision of Taxes and thereupon the said board shall examine and revise the said valuations increasing or decreasing the same as in their judgment may seem to be proper or adding thereto such property or subjects of taxation as may have been omitted and after such revision the said board shall by rule fix convenient times for the hearing of appeals from the said assesments of valuations and after the hearing of said appeals and after making whatever changes may be considered proper the valuations as so ascertained and revised shall stand as the valuations for the assessments of all county and State taxes until the next triennial assessment and shall be made every three years thereafter with power however in the assessors to revise the said assessments according to right and equity between the triennial assessments by adding thereto new increased or omitted subjects of taxation and the revising of valuations if it is proper to do so and upon request by any taxpayer he shall at any time receive from the board a statement of his taxable property and its valuation When the triennial assessment shall be fixed either for the whole county or in districts thereof notice of that fact shall be given by publication in not more than two newspapers of the county and of the time or times at which appeals will be heard After hearing the appeals the board shall take such action in regard to them as may be right and proper after such action on the appeals any tax payer who is dissatisfied with the assessment upon his property may within thirty days from the final fixing of the said assessment and valuation appeal to the court of common pleas of the county and it shall be the duty of the court to at once hear and determine said appeal and if necessary make such change therein as may be proper In case of any change by the board during the intervals between the triennial assessments as provided for in this section if there be any increase in any particular assessment or the addition of any omitted subject of taxation the taxpayer affected shall if a resident of the county have written or printed notice left at his residence at least ten days before the change is made and if a non-resident then the notice shall be posted on the property and such taxpayer may appeal as provided above to a court of common pleas and such court may take action as provided above in case of other appeals The subordinate assessors provided for in this act shall receive the sum of four dollars per day for the time actually occupied in the discharge of their duties The board shall have the right to appoint such clerks as the salary board may allow for the proper discharge of the duties of said board and all salaries and expenses shall be paid out of the county treasury In so far as respects State taxes the valuation and assessments shall be made by the board annually on or before December thirty-first" shall be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 The said Board shall divide the county into convenient districts and shall appoint one subordinate assessor for each of the said districts The subordinate assessors shall make assessments and valuations of all property taxable for county purposes together with a list of all persons taxable upon occupations in their respective districts and shall on or before the first Monday of November of the year preceding the next triennial assessment in such counties file the same with the said Board for the Assessment and Revision of Taxes and thereupon the said Board shall examine and revise the said valuations increasing or decreasing the same as in their judgment may seem to be proper or adding thereto such property or subjects of taxation as may have been omitted and after such revision the said Board shall by rule fix convenient times for the hearing of appeals from said assessments of valuations and after the hearing of said appeals and after making whatever changes may be considered proper the valuations as so ascertained and revised unless changed in the manner hereinafter provided shall stand as the valuations for the assessments of all county taxes until the next triennial assessment and shall be made every three years thereafter with power however in the assessors to revise said assessments according to right and equity between triennial assessments by correcting errors in such assessments by adding thereto any property or subjects of taxation which may have been omitted or any new property or subjects of taxation which may have come into being since said triennial assessment and with the further power in the assessors to revise said assessments between triennial assessments by increasing or decreasing the same where the value of the property or subjects of taxation assessed has changed by reason of any change of conditions thereon or adjacent thereto or in the vicinity thereof or by reason of the property assessed having been subdivided or laid out in a plan of lots or other subdivision or by reason of improvements thereon or thereto or by reason of any public or other improvements having been made adjacent thereto or in the vicinity thereof or by reason of a change in the use thereof or where for any other reason whatsoever the value of the property has changed and it seems to the board of assessors necessary and equitable to make a change in the valuation thereof

When the triennial assessments shall be fixed either for the whole county or in districts thereof notice of that fact shall be given by publication in at least two newspapers of the county and of the time or times when appeals will be heard After hearing the appeals the Board shall take such action in regard thereto as may be right and proper After action taken on the appeals any taxpayer dissatisfied with the assessment upon his property may within thirty days from the final fixing of the said assessment and valuation appeal to the court of common pleas of the county and it shall be the duty of the court to at once hear and determine said appeal and if necessary make such change therein as may be proper

At least ten days written notice shall be given to any taxable person whose assessment shall be changed between triennial assessments of the change so made and of the time and place set for hearing objections thereto

Said notice shall be served by the Board or any member thereof or by any subordinate assessor or by any other person by the Board authorized so to do in the manner provided by law for the service of a summons in a personal action if said taxable person can be found in the county or upon an adult person residing upon the property assessed in case the taxable person cannot be found in the county When no service is made upon the taxable person or upon an adult person residing upon the property assessed said notice shall be deemed to have been properly served if tacked or conspicuuously posted upon the property assessed

No defect in the service of any such notice shall be sufficient ground for setting aside any assessment so made but upon proof thereof being made the taxable person shall have the rgiht to a rehearing before said board relative to said assessment and to an appeal therefrom to the court of common pleas in the manner provided in this act or either or both at the option of the taxable person No appeal taken from any such assessment shall affect the validity of any taxes based thereon but if such assessment shall thereafter be reduced an exoneration shall be granted or restitution ordered for the excess of taxes paid by reason of any improper increase in the assessment

After the hearing of any objections thereto and the making of any changes that may be deemed proper the valuations as so ascertained and revised shall undess changed in the manner herein provided stand as the valuations for the assessments of county taxes until the next triennial assessment provided however that any taxable person dissatisfied with the changes so made may within thirty days after said hearing and the final fixing of the same appeal to the court of common pleas of the county and it shall be the duty of the court to at once hear and determine said appeal and if necessary make such change therein as may be proper

Upon request by any taxpayer he shall at any time receive from the Board a statement of his taxable property and its valuation

The subordinate assessors provided for in this act shall receive the sum of four dollars per day for the time actually occupied in the discharge of their duties The board shall have the right to appoint such clerks as the salary board may allow for the proper discharge of the duties of said board and all salaries and expenses shall be paid out of the county treasury In so far as respects personal property taxes the valuations and assessments shall be made by the board annually on or before December thirty-first
